Wellsville Receives Damage As Severe Storm Hits Area

Gospel Tent Blown Down At Calcutta

Fire Destroys Barn, Home In County As Lightning Strikes

Wellsville again received the principal damage from a severe thunderstorm that lashed the East Liverpool area Tuesday night with lightning bolts blamed for two fires.

The high winds caused power failures, uprooted trees and destroyed a prayer tent from which 150 worshippers escaped unharmed.

The storm was general throughout the county. The city got off with little damage but it was the third "big blow" for Wellsville this season.

At Wellsville the damage was widespread. The front section of the abandoned Whitacre Apartment was blown out, about half the city was without power for almost five hours, wind whipped down tree limbs and fire caused by lightning, destroyed a small barn on a nearby farm.

City officials said the majority of the damage was caused by the strong winds which came in extremely heavy gusts, driving the rain before it. Wellsville has been hit with three major rain storms in the past month.

About a 30-foot section of the apartment building on 3rd St. was knocked out. The building, owned by Basil Mangano of East Liverpool, is being razed.

The section came from the second story, spreading debris across the street and knocking out a 4,000-volt, three-phase, feeder line into the city. The power went off about 8:30 and was turned back on about 12:35 a. m. today, according to the Ohio Power Co.

The entire eastern section of town was blacked out, effecting 350 to 400 customers. Sparks from the lines arced across the street. Traffic had to be rerouted onto Broadway and 2nd St. behind the Stevenson Foundry.

A car owned by a Toronto man and parked in front of the building was struck by falling bricks and the wires which burned a hole in the chrome and cracked the windshield.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said street lights on Riverside Ave., Main St. and the upper side of Broadway from the upper end of town to 10th St. also were out because of the failure.

Firemen were called when the wires ignited refuse in the building and set fire to the pole. While the firemen were on this call, another was received of a barn on fire at the home of Dean F. DeLong of Route 45 near Lake Cha-Vel, about 6 miles outside the city limits.

The call was logged at 9:30. The fire station was without power and the firemen couldn't sound the main siren to notify the volunteers. A siren on one of the trucks was used.

Charles Plate, a neighbor of DeLong, notified the Wellsville department while West Point volunteers were called by another neighbor. Both departments responded.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said the 35-x-45-foot building housed a tractor, tools, various other equipment and some supplies. The loss was set at $3,500.

He said the walls and roof had collapsed when the firemen arrived, leaving a pile of burning rubble.

Neighbors said lightning had struck the building. The family was not home at the time. Firemen said no attempt was made to extinguish the blaze. They played their hoses on the surrounding buildings to keep them from igniting. The home is about 150 feet away.

Lewis said 14 volunteers remained on standby at the station while

WELLSVILLE STORM DAMAGE. Debris litters this street in Wellsville after the front of the Whitacre Apartment Building on 3rd St. was blown out during the storm Tuesday night. The building is being razed. Ohio Power Co. line crews can be seen working at the left of the building. The debris or lightning knocked out one of the city's main feeder lines, leaving the upper section of town without power about 5 hours.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN. Smoke rises from the burning remains of a barn which was hit by lightning and destroyed by fire on the farm of Dean F. DeLong of Route 45 about 6 miles from Wellsville Tuesday night. A tractor and many tools were lost in the blaze.

Plane Probe Prevented

Reds 'Lose Face' By Veto

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Security Council debate on the American RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down by the Soviets ended Tuesday night with a 9-2 council vote rejecting Soviet charges against the United States and a Soviet veto of the U.S. proposal for an international investigation.

The Soviets also vetoed an Italian proposal that the International Red Cross contact the two surviving crewmen of the American plane, who are being held by the Soviets for trial as spies.

Despite the official impasse, U.N. diplomats chalked up the outcome as a defeat for the Soviet Union and a victory for the United States. They pointed out that on all three resolutions the vote was 9-2, with the Soviet Union and Poland opposed by all nine non-Communist members of the council including Ceylon and Tunisia, which usually abstain from voting on cold war disputes.

The vetoes brought the Soviet total to 89 in the council's history.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said the Soviets by blocking an investigation showed "they do not believe their own charge" against the United States. He termed the Italian proposal for the Red Cross to contact the captured fliers a "compassionate resolution."

He told the council: "It is a sad thing when a people as warm hearted as the Soviet people are represented by a government as cold-hearted, brutal, hard and cynical as they showed themselves to be tonight."

The Soviets had charged that the RB47, when shot down by a Soviet jet fighter July 1, was on a spy mission over Soviet territorial waters in the Barents Sea. The Soviet resolution that the council rejected would have condemned the United States for aggressive acts and called on it to cease such activity.

Lodge earlier in the debate said the plane was investigating electromagnetic currents in arctic waters for mapping purposes and that it never came closer than 30 miles to Soviet territory.

Faubus Wins In Arkansas' Primary Vote

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus was on the high road to an unprecedented fourth term today after a smashing victory over four opponents in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Faubus, central figure in the Little Rock integration crisis, faces Republican opposition in the November general election, but Arkansas has not elected a GOP governor since Reconstruction days.

Returns from 2,158 of the state's 2,328 precincts showed: Faubus 201,364; Joe C. Hardin of Grady 51,729; Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett 50,108; H.E. Williams 28,205, and Hal Millsap Jr., 8,148.

Incumbents won renomination in both contested congressional races. Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock got a heavy vote in late returns to beat State Sen. Robert Hays Williams and Rep. Jim Trimble of Berryville trounced Donald Poe of Waldron.

The vote in 174 of 228 precincts in the 5th District showed: Alford 24,200, Williams 19,717.

In the 3rd District, 472 of 503 precincts gave Trimble 46,602 and Poe 16,632.

Ike Defends GOP Record For 8 Years

Eisenhower Offers Challenge To Reds On 'World Election'

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower says it is "irrefutable truth" that the nation is enjoying unprecedented prosperity, has the strongest military system in the world and is working ceaselessly for peace.

He gave this assessment of his years of stewardship in the White House to an enthusiastic "Thank You Ike Day" session of the GOP National Convention Tuesday night.

Especially in the fields of national defense and economic growth, Eisenhower strongly defended his administration's record. At many points his speech struck at the Democrats, but he could as well have been speaking of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he said:

"Just as the Biblical Job had his boils, so we have a cult of professional pessimists who, taking counsel of their fears, continually mouth the allegation that America has become a second-rate military power."

Rockefeller has criticized several phases of administration activity.

Eisenhower, who is nearing 70, received a warm "we like Ike" reception from the GOP delegates, whose party rode to power with him nearly eight years ago after two decades of being on the outside.

The President, as he has before, came up with a dramatic challenge to the dictator in the Kremlin.

Would the Soviet dictator, Eisenhower asked, "agree to holding of free elections under the sponsorship of the United Nations—to permit people everywhere—in every nation and on every continent, to vote on one single, simple issue?

"That issue is: Do you want to live under a Communist regime or under a free system such as found in the United States?

"Are the Soviets willing to measure their world prestige by the results of such elections?

"The United States would gladly do so."

The President listed a string of achievements on the domestic front, defended the administration's conduct on foreign affairs, and said "there are more Americans today employed, at higher wages and with more take-home pay than ever before in our history."

Speaking of gross national product—the sum of all the goods and services produced in the nation—Eisenhower said "we are fed a great deal of information—and much more of misinformation.

"The interesting fact is that in these past seven and a half years the annual gross national product has increased by one hundred billion dollars—or 25 per cent.

"During the almost eight-year duration of the prior, Democratic administration, the gross national product actually declined in every single peacetime year, save one."

Eisenhower defended his long struggle against inflation, which critics have said has blinded him to more pressing problems.

"In the face of all the efforts of the reckless spenders to thwart the administration, a budgetary surplus has been achieved, fiscal responsibility maintained, and confidence restored," he said.

In the military field, Eisenhower said when he came to office his administration had to start almost from scratch in the field of ballistic missiles, and in his term has developed a varied arsenal of these powerful new weapons.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Minor fluctuations in new and continuing claims for Ohio's unemployment compensation continued in the week ended July 23.

Compromise Reached

Platform Slated For OK Without Civil Rights Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — A broad, 10,000-word Republican platform with a sturdily rebuilt civil rights plank is ready for expected GOP convention approval tonight.

Prospects of any floor battle faded as most GOP chiefs indicated they would accept the compromise worked out Tuesday night by the platform committee on the touchy racial equality issue. The compromise was voted 56-28.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, due to wear the party's presidential mantle, was described as satisfied with the completed platform product. Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York echoed the reports after visiting Nixon early today.

Further along in the wee hours, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller added his endorsement to the revised plank, calling it "a strong and specific declaration in support of equal opportunity, human dignity and the supreme worth of the individual."

Both Rockefeller and Nixon had described an earlier platform plank as unsatisfactory. Rockefeller said he would like to have seen even the new plank go further in some respects, but said he was gratified with the revision.

"The plank is comprehensive," he said. "It attacks discrimination in voting, housing, schools, jobs and public facilities."

Southern delegates, claiming a victory in keeping civil rights policy declarations as moderate as possible, said they had no desire to kick up any convention fuss.

G. Harold Alexander, Florida Republican chairman, said after a meeting of 10 Southern state chairmen he does not expect a minority report to go before the convention.

The platform, in a nutshell, adheres to traditional GOP conservatism in fiscal and economic policies, commends for continuation the tenets of President Eisenhower's administration, but promises to provide any increased national defense expenditures found necessary.

The final defense plank represents a considerable revision from an earlier version also sharply criticized by Rockefeller. The original consisted primarily of a pledge to continue Eisenhower policies. The final plank calls for

Group Pushes New Tax Plan Toward Ballot

Deadline Set Friday For Filing Petitions For Nov. 8 Voting

A 20-man citizens' committee pushed ahead today with circulation of petitions requesting a vote on a municipal income tax, hoping to file the papers by Friday with City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate to put the proposed initiative ordinance on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

Circulation of the petitions was started Thursday by a group headed by Thomas J. Doland, Orchard Grove Ave. insurance agency operator, who said he was motivated by the belief the city needs adequate income "to change from decay to progress."

The ordinance proposes a levy of 80 cents per $100 on earnings, business profits and other income. On two previous occasions — in November 1958 and November 1959—income taxes were rejected at the polls.

The latest movement started when the tax supporters filed with the auditor a copy of the ordinance they propose to put to a vote. That cleared the way for circulation of petitions to begin.

At least 870 valid voters' signatures are needed for a ballot place. The signature requirement is based on 10 per cent of the vote cast for governor in East Liverpool in the last preceding general election of state officers.

If the proponents' petitions are filed before the deadline, law makes it the auditor's responsibility to determine if they carry enough valid signatures to warrant a ballot place. If he rules favorably, he will certify the petition to the County Election

Lumumba Due At Capital In Bid For Help

Congo Head Plans To Ask Economic, Technical Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba arrives today amid full military honors to appeal for emergency U.S. economic and technical help for his crisis-ridden, near-bankrupt government.

Administration leaders arranged to give him a friendly reception plus promises of aid — via the United Nations—in his struggle to keep his 27-day-old republic alive as an independent African nation.

At the start of a hastily-arranged two-day visit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was due to meet the outspoken African leader at the airport at mid-afternoon along with a welcoming Army band and a military honor guard.

Lumumba, who only last week was talking of asking Russian help to oust Belgian troops from the Congo, was to meet officially with Herter and top administration aides later today as a followup to his New York meetings with U.N. officials.

Lumumba's arrival coincided with an appeal from his finance minister back in Leopoldville for money and doctors to help restore essential services in the Congo.

He said that between 8 and 10 million dollars are urgently needed to meet government payrolls in August and to keep the government from collapsing in new riots and disorder.

Top State Department officials, surveying the virtual economic and government paralysis in the Congo, have concluded that far more than this sum will be needed. Thousands of outside techni-

Pleases State Delegation

Nixon Promises To Make Campaign Trips Into Ohio

CHICAGO (AP)—Without an intraparty worry in the world, Ohio Republicans were ready today to lay their 56 GOP convention votes at the feet of Richard M. Nixon.

Their chance will come tonight—unless an absence of other contenders for the party's presidential nomination allows the honor to go to the present vice president by acclamation.

The well disciplined Ohio delegation had seemed a bit apathetic early in the week, apparently determined simply to go through the work assigned to it: Nixon's nomination.

But there was noticeable pep in the delegation Tuesday after President Eisenhower flew into town and Nixon gave the delegation 25 minutes of his undivided attention.

Ohio delegates already had been sincerely enthusiastic about Nixon, but they practically loved him when he pledged at least two—perhaps three—campaign sorties into the Buckeye State.

Having lost their political shirts in the fearful drubbing they took in 1958, Ohio Republicans were fully aware they need all the help they can get as they start on what they hope will be the comeback trail this year.

Ohio was one of the first states

Odds Point To Lodge As VP Choice

Iron Grasp Still Held On GOP Convention By Vice President

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—With an iron grasp on its every significant activity, Vice President Richard M. Nixon awaited today the Republican convention's nomination as its presidential candidate.

Around the fringes of this unprecedentedly controlled party meeting dissident voices cried out in the political wilderness against a Nixon-dictated platform and his prospective choice of a running mate.

But behind his legions of delegate votes Nixon had the solid, still glamorous figure of President Eisenhower.

To roars of thunderous applause, Eisenhower told the convention Tuesday night that his administration had "employed the whole might of our military, economic, political and moral strength to prevent war and to build a solid structure of peace."

Then, in passing the baton of GOP leadership to Nixon, his specially trained vice president, Eisenhower added: "If we can be blessed with experience and steady leadership in Washington, the possibility of the outbreak of future war will be minimized and we can eventually win the peace."

Nixon was in full command of a convention as perhaps no other nominee-to-be except a White House occupant ever has been.

So it was Nixon who wore the general's stars for the first time. It was Nixon who told the platform committee what to do. It would be Nixon who chose his vice presidential running mate.

Although he put off a final decision until after his own nomination, the odds were very heavy that Nixon will pick telegenic Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the Soviet-baiting United Nations ambassador, to run with him.

Nixon summoned a score or more of the party's leaders to meet with him in his hotel suite tonight on the vice presidential choice. That made it almost certain the convention will not act on that until Thursday.

There remained the outside chance that at the meeting, Nixon might be convinced that Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, might be the better entry in November's bitter struggle.

There was no certainty that Nixon would get the top nomination without at least the formality of a challenge.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who has made himself a spokesman of the conservatives in the tradition of a Robert A. Taft, were uncertain whether to post his name for a roll call.

At best this would be only a

Thief Collects Prize Without Climbing Pole

Though Tuesday night's storm caused little damage to the annual fair in Chester, a "slippery" thief or thieves took advantage of the situation after rain and lightning had chased crowds.

Working in darkness and rain, the thieves dug up a "greased pole" at the fair in City Park and made off with the $5 bill attached to the top. It was to have been awarded as a prize to the successful climber.

The pole was found about 10:30 lying on the ground with the cash missing. However, it will be erected again for a "greased pole" contest tonight.

Several hundred were present when the fair opened at 7:30 but they left because of threatening skies and lightning.

Meanwhile, the volunteer firemen have received $30 more in donations from 2 individuals, Don Chaney reported.

Chaney added that anyone wishing to contribute funds to the firemen may turn the money over to him and he will pass it along to the department.

Firemen are receiving donations from residents after a public meeting Saturday when plans to raise money for the department were discussed. Firemen earlier had threatened to resign unless permitted to operate a bingo stand at the annual fair. However, no game was opened.

The debris or lightning knocked out one of the city's main feeder lines, leaving the upper section of town without power about 5 hours.

Faubus Wins In Arkansas' Primary Vote

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus was on the high road to an unprecedented fourth term today after a smashing victory over four opponents in Tuesday's Democratic primary.

Faubus, central figure in the Little Rock integration crisis, faces Republican opposition in the November general election, but Arkansas has not elected a GOP governor since Reconstruction days.

Incumbents won renomination in both contested congressional races. Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock got a heavy vote in late returns to beat State Sen. Robert Hays Williams and Rep. Jim Trimble of Berryville trounced Donald Poe of Waldron.

The vote in 174 of 228 precincts in the 5th District showed: Alford 24,200, Williams 19,717.

In the 3rd District, 472 of 503 precincts gave Trimble 46,602 and Poe 16,632.

Ike Defends GOP Record For 8 Years

Group Pushes New Tax Plan Toward Ballot

Deadline Set Friday For Filing Petitions For Nov. 8 Voting

A 20-man citizens' committee pushed ahead today with circulation of petitions requesting a vote on a municipal income tax, hoping to file the papers by Friday with City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate to put the proposed initiative ordinance on the Nov. 8 general election ballot.

Circulation of the petitions was started Thursday by a group headed by Thomas J. Doland, Orchard Grove Ave. insurance agency operator, who said he was motivated by the belief the city needs adequate income "to change from decay to progress."

The ordinance proposes a levy of 80 cents per $100 on earnings, business profits and other income. On two previous occasions — in November 1958 and November 1959—income taxes were rejected at the polls.

The latest movement started when the tax supporters filed with the auditor a copy of the ordinance they propose to put to a vote. That cleared the way for circulation of petitions to begin.

At least 870 valid voters' signatures are needed for a ballot place. The signature requirement is based on 10 per cent of the vote cast for governor in East Liverpool in the last preceding general election of state officers.

If the proponents' petitions are filed before the deadline, law makes it the auditor's responsibility to determine if they carry enough valid signatures to warrant a ballot place. If he rules favorably, he will certify the petition to the County Election

Lumumba Due At Capital In Bid For Help

Congo Head Plans To Ask Economic, Technical Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba arrives today amid full military honors to appeal for emergency U.S. economic and technical help for his crisis-ridden, near-bankrupt government.

Administration leaders arranged to give him a friendly reception plus promises of aid — via the United Nations—in his struggle to keep his 27-day-old republic alive as an independent African nation.

At the start of a hastily-arranged two-day visit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was due to meet the outspoken African leader at the airport at mid-afternoon along with a welcoming Army band and a military honor guard.

Lumumba, who only last week was talking of asking Russian help to oust Belgian troops from the Congo, was to meet officially with Herter and top administration aides later today as a followup to his New York meetings with U.N. officials.

Lumumba's arrival coincided with an appeal from his finance minister back in Leopoldville for money and doctors to help restore essential services in the Congo.

He said that between 8 and 10 million dollars are urgently needed to meet government payrolls in August and to keep the government from collapsing in new riots and disorder.

Top State Department officials, surveying the virtual economic and government paralysis in the Congo, have concluded that far more than this sum will be needed. Thousands of outside techni-

Pleases State Delegation

Nixon Promises To Make Campaign Trips Into Ohio

CHICAGO (AP)—Without an intraparty worry in the world, Ohio Republicans were ready today to lay their 56 GOP convention votes at the feet of Richard M. Nixon.

Their chance will come tonight—unless an absence of other contenders for the party's presidential nomination allows the honor to go to the present vice president by acclamation.

The well disciplined Ohio delegation had seemed a bit apathetic early in the week, apparently determined simply to go through the work assigned to it: Nixon's nomination.

But there was noticeable pep in the delegation Tuesday after President Eisenhower flew into town and Nixon gave the delegation 25 minutes of his undivided attention.

Ohio delegates already had been sincerely enthusiastic about Nixon, but they practically loved him when he pledged at least two—perhaps three—campaign sorties into the Buckeye State.

Having lost their political shirts in the fearful drubbing they took in 1958, Ohio Republicans were fully aware they need all the help they can get as they start on what they hope will be the comeback trail this year.

Ohio was one of the first states

Odds Point To Lodge As VP Choice

Iron Grasp Still Held On GOP Convention By Vice President

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP)—With an iron grasp on its every significant activity, Vice President Richard M. Nixon awaited today the Republican convention's nomination as its presidential candidate.

Around the fringes of this unprecedentedly controlled party meeting dissident voices cried out in the political wilderness against a Nixon-dictated platform and his prospective choice of a running mate.

But behind his legions of delegate votes Nixon had the solid, still glamorous figure of President Eisenhower.

To roars of thunderous applause, Eisenhower told the convention Tuesday night that his administration had "employed the whole might of our military, economic, political and moral strength to prevent war and to build a solid structure of peace."

Then, in passing the baton of GOP leadership to Nixon, his specially trained vice president, Eisenhower added: "If we can be blessed with experience and steady leadership in Washington, the possibility of the outbreak of future war will be minimized and we can eventually win the peace."

Nixon was in full command of a convention as perhaps no other nominee-to-be except a White House occupant ever has been.

So it was Nixon who wore the general's stars for the first time. It was Nixon who told the platform committee what to do. It would be Nixon who chose his vice presidential running mate.

Although he put off a final decision until after his own nomination, the odds were very heavy that Nixon will pick telegenic Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., the Soviet-baiting United Nations ambassador, to run with him.

Nixon summoned a score or more of the party's leaders to meet with him in his hotel suite tonight on the vice presidential choice. That made it almost certain the convention will not act on that until Thursday.

There remained the outside chance that at the meeting, Nixon might be convinced that Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, might be the better entry in November's bitter struggle.

There was no certainty that Nixon would get the top nomination without at least the formality of a challenge.

Backers of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who has made himself a spokesman of the conservatives in the tradition of a Robert A. Taft, were uncertain whether to post his name for a roll call.

At best this would be only a

Thief Collects Prize Without Climbing Pole

Though Tuesday night's storm caused little damage to the annual fair in Chester, a "slippery" thief or thieves took advantage of the situation after rain and lightning had chased crowds.

Working in darkness and rain, the thieves dug up a "greased pole" at the fair in City Park and made off with the $5 bill attached to the top. It was to have been awarded as a prize to the successful climber.

The pole was found about 10:30 lying on the ground with the cash missing. However, it will be erected again for a "greased pole" contest tonight.

Several hundred were present when the fair opened at 7:30 but they left because of threatening skies and lightning.

Meanwhile, the volunteer firemen have received $30 more in donations from 2 individuals, Don Chaney reported.

Chaney added that anyone wishing to contribute funds to the firemen may turn the money over to him and he will pass it along to the department.

Firemen are receiving donations from residents after a public meeting Saturday when plans to raise money for the department were discussed. Firemen earlier had threatened to resign unless permitted to operate a bingo stand at the annual fair. However, no game was opened.

No Doubt About The Communists

Whatever disservices the Communists do to the free world, one major service they provide is the laying out in black and white of their objectives and their strategies.

Take, for example, the recent declaration printed in full in Pravda, which details just what the Kremlin's global strategy will be in the immediate future.

It says, first, that the way has now been prepared for this strategy because the international temperature has been raised to the point where everybody is worried about tensions that may explode into war. That pretty well confirms the suspicion that Nikita Khrushchev planned to blast the summit conference into diplomatic oblivion regardless of the U2. It also restates the old Communist maxim that Reds do best in a sea of unrest.

WITH THE WAY thus prepared, Pravda says, it is time to launch an international, double-barreled demand for a vast conference of all nations on disarmament. The Communists will deluge the United Nations with this campaign, and promote it throughout the world with local rallies, petitions and all the other techniques of a massive propaganda campaign.

They will play up the troubles in the Congo, Cuba and other sensitive areas in an effort to leave the United States standing helplessly and hopelessly alone.

The whole thing is being handled by the executive bureau of the World Council of Peace, a Kremlin group.

There, in plain language for all to see, is the Red plan, right from the horse's mouth. What more could the West want in the way of guidance as to its future action?

THE AMAZING part of this, looking back over international events of the last two years, is that none of it is new. Experts on the ways of communism have long warned that when the West falls for a "peaceful" Red line, it is closing its eyes to the handwriting on the wall.

The Communist objective—world domination—was set down more than 100 years ago by Karl Marx. It has been restated in a variety of ways by Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev, but the basic objective has never been changed.

The strategy by which the objective is to be achieved has never been changed, either. It uses unrest, fear, poverty, propaganda, alternate periods of quiet and violence—but always moving toward the final end of world domination by communism.

Naturally, successive Communist leaders must refine the strategy to fit the particular times in which they operate, but they all have restated the original objective and the basic strategy time and again for all the world to hear.

REALIZING THIS makes it easier to understand why some world leaders, President Eisenhower included, basically resist the Communist pressures to build an illusion of peaceful efforts, through such devices as summit conferences.

But it makes it difficult to understand why some other world leaders and many rank-and-file citizens increase the pressures by falling for the "peaceful coexistence" line.

A symptom that this predisposition to be lured into Communist traps still exists, even after the collapse of the summit conference, lies in the fact that we still tremble more at Red China's viciousness than we do at the Kremlin's cunning.

THE RED CHINESE bosses do not like the Kremlin's soft-soap line. They prefer more aggressive policies in furthering the Communist cause of world domination.

But a clearly recognizable enemy is easier to deal with than an oblique one. With Red China we know where we stand. With Russia, the picture is not always so clear to some as it should be.

The cause of world freedom would be better served if the Communists followed the Peiping line—because so many in the free world do not realize the Peiping line and the Kremlin line both lead in the same direction.

Legislators As Presidential Material

Among the multitude of tradition-shattering characteristics of this year's presidential election campaign is the fact that both the candidates rose to national prominence as legislators.

Warren G. Harding is the only man in our history who went directly from Congress to the White House, and he was a very dark horse when the 1920 Republican convention opened. It took 10 ballots to nominate him.

The prejudice against legislators as material for chief executives has been so strong that few ever have been even nominated. Our history books are full of stories of broken hearts and shattered dreams among legislators who hoped to reach the highest level of national service and failed—Robert A. Taft, William Jennings Bryan and Henry Clay are among the best known.

THERE ARE SOME natural reasons for this prejudice. All the qualities most admired in a legislator are the ones which make it most difficult for him to command the broad support across the land needed to elect him president.

He is elected to Congress from a district or a state, which he is expected to represent at least as much as, if not more than, he represents the interests of the entire nation. This may pin on him the label of narrow sectionalism.

His committee assignments tend to make him expert in one or two specialized fields of government policy rather than acquainting him with a broad range of governmental activities. This may give the voters the idea he is too one-sided to be able to cope intelligently with the multitude of decisions a president must make.

If he is a hard-working, conscientious legislator, he is forced to take stands on controversial issues, which automatically makes him the enemy, real or imagined, of all those on whose side he did not stand. Henry Clay's declaration that he "would rather be right than be president" summed up this hazard perfectly.

On the other hand, if the legislator takes pains to avoid clearly controversial stands, he is subject to accusations of ducking his legislative responsibilities.

This, indeed, may be Sen. Kennedy's biggest burden in the coming campaign. He is not noted for having a brilliant record as a legislator, and many charge him with ducking or otherwise skirting definitive stands on major issues during his 14 years as congressman and senator.

VICE PRESIDENT Nixon, having made as a legislator the reputation that thrust him into the national limelight, still has the shadow of that record lingering close behind him.

As a legislator he gained the tag of conservative, which alienated a good many so-called liberals. As a legislator he specialized in charges of Communist influence in government, which brought upon him the wrath of many a Democrat.

But he has had the advantage of an eight-year buffer period in the executive branch, helping to shape and execute administrative policies. As presiding officer of the Senate, he has been moderator rather than contestant in the legislative halls.

Whether this year's experience will break down the old resistance to a legislator as presidential candidate will be known only after the Nov. 8 election.

Broadway will have a 7:30 o'clock curtain once a week for convenience of suburbanites and folks who don't think most of the night should be over before a play begins.

Typical Broadwayite scoffs at idea. He wants certified darkness and right to go to the theater as late as home and restaurant habits permit.

He is revolted by the thought of entering a playhouse where there is a lingering ray of sunset and another cocktail around loose.

There are New Yorkers who think it is a prestige symbol to tramp in after the curtain has gone up and make it as uncomfortable as possible for early birds with better manners. They will not be there for a 7:30 curtain, as they do not feel sufficiently pompous and superior so early. To get there before 8:45 or 9 p.m. would mean cutting down the dinner courses and skipping the wines.

There are playgoers who can't become obnoxious and overbearing before the evening is well along. They have a horror of getting into a theater before each aisle is full and the performance under way.

There are other New Yorkers who can't see why going to the theater should be an all-night exploit in "let's-kill-the-whole-evening" mood.

They would like to see a show before they have become sleepy, irritable and tired of looking at their watches. They like their entertainment while they are still wide awake and before they are on the edge of a new day.

Suburbanite gets a special break. He can spend a couple of hours following the play instead of worrying whether the last train home will leave before the big scene developes. With a late curtain he has to rush to catch a train beofre he has caught the drift of the drama.

A cheer for the 7:30 curtain and more than once a week. It is not enough.

Salinger's connection with Democratic nominee should get him support of all kids who want to escape from piano practice.

Stretching His Luck

Mitchell Defends U.S. Free Enterprise

By Victor Riesel

James Mitchell, advisor to President Eisenhower on labor, was asked by Victor Riesel for his views on the question of economic growth. Here is his reply.

By JAMES P. MITCHELL

WASHINGTON—The ability of our economy to produce the goods and services we need for domestic programs and a strong defense has recently been called into question.

This issue of economic growth is a vital one to all Americans, to working men and women who desire security and a high standard of living, to businessmen seeking investment capital and funds for expansion and to governments faced with the need for providing more public services.

In a nation experiencing the beginnings of a huge population growth, this question of economic production will be a serious one for many years, especially since we have at the same time been called to a worldwide economic contest with the controlled Soviet economy that is building an industrial economy on the basis of individual exploitation rather than individual freedom.

CAN FREE MEN compete? Or, as some of the critics imply, must we turn over to government the responsibility for getting out the goods and services we need—of the proper kinds and for the right purposes?

These critics say we should. My answer is both an instinctive and a reasoned no.

Since space here does not permit a full discussion of the subject, I would merely post the warning that statistics measuring our rate of economic growth are seldom dissimilar periods, it is quite easy—and it is becoming quite fashionable, even among our "pundits"—to sell America short.

If it is a game, it has more than a little danger to it.

We are told, for example, that between 1947 and 1952, the economy was booming along at a prosperous 4.6 per cent average annual rate of growth, while between 1952 and 1959 we have done no better than 2.6 per cent.

These figures appear on Table 5 of the January 1960 Report of the Joint Economic Committee of the Congress.

This Table 5, a kind of "playing board" for those who find figures more fascinating than facts, looks and functions exactly like an automobile mileage chart.

One reads across the top to find the "starting" year and then down the margin to find the "terminal" year and where the columns cross, the proper figure appears.

The chart shows that the growth rate between 1947 and 1952 was indeed 4.6 per cent. But moving one "marker" back two years, so we cover a period from 1945 to 1952, we find a growth rate of only 1.7 per cent.

This example suffices, I think to make the point that short-term measurements of growth are more than deceptive. Between 1954 and 1957 the economy grew at 4 per cent, between 1954 and 1959 at 3.2 per cent—yet at the time these figures were recorded they caused no joy nor alarm because it was generally accepted that 1954, a recession year, was a bad place to start comparing following boom year rates.

THE SAME is true today. Any measurement from recession to boom yields a high rate; any measurement from boom to recession, say 1953 to 1958, a low rate. And none have value to the resolution of the argument, outside a dubious political value.

Over the long span, in the half-century from 1909 to 1959, the American economy grew at the steady rate of almost 3 per cent.

The greatest peacetime boom in history up to that time, 1953, left a highwater mark; the post-war recession left shallow water marks. But the economy has proceeded steadily and strongly upward until now we are producing more than $1,300,000,000 worth of goods and services in America every day, one-third of the world's total production.

Whether this is enough to support our private and public needs has been debated. Apparently unclear to those who argue for larger "government" spending is the fact that almost 35 cents of every dollar earned in America already goes for "government" purposes—but this includes all governments, not just federal.

One economist has recommended that government expenditures ought to rise to 110 billion dollars annually to goad the economy along.

Apparently he and others like him do not consider the money we now place in public enterprises, through all sectors of government, enough—yet the people have spent a full third of the total increase in national income since the war on such public purposes.

URGENCY is given to this plea for greater federal spending by comparison to Russia's rate of economic growth, but here again the comparisons are deceptive.

The truth of the matter seems to be that the production of the United States is now twice that of the Soviet Union, while the rate of economic growth over the last decade or so has been roughly half.

What this means is that the same volume of goods is being added each year to the economies of both countries—but the kinds of goods vary greatly.

Our own economic output includes a substantial amount of consumer goods and service. The Soviets spend their produced wealth on military equipment capital investment.

I believe that the Russian economy will never surpass our own. I also believe, however, that an increasing rate of economic growth in Russia is a serious challenge to our free enterprise system—a challenge we should face in our own way, by being ourselves more, not by becoming more like them.

As we face the decisions ahead, we should above all make sure that they are made on the basis of the truth, not on the shaky foundation of short-term growth rates that can be made to make any point if one knows where to start and where to end on the checkerboard.

GOP Backs Court Ruling

By James Marlow

CHICAGO

It has taken the Republicans, as a party, six wears to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools. The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in their party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.

Both parties of course, had their eye on the Southern white vote. Too hearty an endorsement of the court ruling was a cinch to cost votes in the South for the party bold enough to try it.

In their 1956 platform the Republicans wouldn't go any further than saying their "party accepts the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that racial discrimination in publicly supported schools must be progressively eliminated."

This was quite a long way from saying the party approved what the court did. President Eisenhower himself set the pace for such a caution by avoiding saying to this day that he approves the court's action.

But in 1956 the Democrats' platform was even more cagey than that of the Republicans. The Democrats, whose Southern members have been a constant obstacle to civil rights legislation in Congress, contented themselves with this:

"Recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States relating to segregation in publicly supported schools and elsewhere have brought consequences of vast importance to our nation as a whole and especially to communities directly affected."

It was hardly news that the court decision was going to force big changes.

Two weeks ago at Los Angeles the Democrats produced the strongest civil rights plank in their history—one which may cost them some Southern white votes—but still avoided flat endorsement of what the court did in 1954.

Southern delegates at the Democratic convention were unhappy over the whole civil rights plank of the party. Then the Republicans moved into Chicago for their convention.

Southern white Republican delegates fought against any strong civil rights plank, though Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he wanted a firm one.

For days the Republican Platform Committee—at a time when it knew the Democratic plank might cost the Democrats some white Southern votes — fiddled around with the idea of coming up with a less forthright plank than the Democrats.

In the end it produced a civil rights plank which in some ways was a little tougher than the Democrats' promises on civil rights and in other ways was a little softer.

But the Republicans' civil rights plank wound up being the strongest the party had yet produced. And, on the subject of the court's 1954 decision, the Republicans went further than the Democrats have ever cared or dared to go.

The Republicans said flatly: "We supported the position of the Negro school children even before the Supreme Court. We believe the Supreme Court school decision was right and should be carried out in accordance with the mandate of the court."

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Damages was estimated at $25,000 to crops in Hancock County during a heat wave.

Elmer Carey, secretary and manager of the East Liverpool Moose Lodge, was named an outside guard for the state convention in Akron.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harold Lockhart twirled a no-hit, run game while Don McVay and Lawrence Brown pounded out homers to bring in all the runs as the Waterloo Tigers defeated the Grant St. Juniors, 4-0, in a ball game at Parsons Field.

Some 7,000 attended the opening session at the Hollow Rock camp meeting.

TEN YEARS AGO — Charles A. Hill of Malta, a graduate of Ohio University, was appointed band director at Wellsville High School.

Memberships in Columbiana County juvenile and subordinate granges reached an all-time high of 4,559.

Platform Picture

By David Lawrence

How To Achieve Goals Is The Difference

CHICAGO — It is difficult to avoid being cynical at these conventions, irrespective of which party holds them. For things are not always what they seem to be.

The words in the platforms and speeches are meant largely to catch votes and not necessarily to express any formula for governmental action on specific problems.

The row here over the platform is incredible. Just a few weeks ago the critics were saying Dick Nixon is a hard-boiled "reactionary" and that not a drop of "liberal" blood flows through his veins.

Today he is lined up with the newest of the "liberals," the governor of New York, Nelson Rockefeller. And the reporters have been telling the public that there was a chance of a Rockefeller-Nixon combination being formed to fight some of the platform committee's "moderate" recommendations.

What a change a few bits of dramatic byplay really make!

Actually, the Republican platform is basically a document that seeks all the worthwhile objectives which the Democrats extoll but looks for sound ways to achieve them—without bankrupting the Treasury, raising taxes unduly and killing off the free-enterprise system.

AS FOR the game of semantics on foreign policy and defense, it is doubtful whether the average man cares a whole lot about anything except peace in the world and a big enough deterrent power to prevent a war.

High-sounding phrases by themselves don't build missiles or keep our overseas bases manned with bombers for counterattack.

On "civil rights," the Republican platform is characterized by a sane realism. It doesn't propose, as do the Democrats, to change things "in all areas of community life," which is quite an order embracing doubtless the integration of private schools, private clubs and fraternal organizations were obviously the federal government at present has no constitutional powers anyway.

THE PLATFORM writers here are convinced that they can capture the South and keep Republican strength in the North by being fair to both races.

The Republican platform speaks of ending discrimination "in all areas of national life." If this means areas of life wherein the national government has jurisdiction, it's an improvement over the Democratic platform.

There is something noticeably present in this convention which was conspicuously absent at the Democratic convention.

Here they denounce Communism comprehensively and don't just light touch on it for fear of offending the so-called "liberals." Former President Hoover, for instance, in his memorable address, said to the convention:

"We have also been brainwashed with another Communist basic tenet. They insist that love of country, pride of a people in their history, their ideals and their accomplishments is wicked nationalism.

"Ever since the war, the Communist 'fronts,' and the beatniks, and the eggheads have conducted a national chorus of denunciation of this wicked nationalism."

THE KEYNOTE speech of Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota poured it on the Democrats on another theme—the idea expressed by leading Democrats that the Republicans are responsible for the misbehavior of Khrushchev.

The other day former Gov. Averell Harriman of New York blamed the Republican administration for every untoward event abroad and said, "Look what is happening in Africa."

Sen. Kennedy, too, in his acceptance speech at Los Angeles, said:

"As our keynoter reminded us, the President who began his career by going to Korea ends it by staying away from Japan."

SO CONGRESSMAN Judd answered with a few reminders of his own, as he cried out to the convention:

"It wasn't a Republican administration which at Potsdam gave the Soviet Union East Germany and left West Berlin cut off from the rest of the free world."

Mr. Judd added some reminders also about the giveaways to the Soviet Union at the Yalta and Tereran conferences, conducted by a Democratic administration, as "600 million people disappeared behind the Iron Curtain."

This is a sample of what the argument about "lowered prestige" in the world may be like during the coming campaign.

BUT THE AVERAGE American will want to hear something besides mere words—he will want to know what the policies will really be that will keep America out of another war.

For the Republicans already are pointing to the record of the last half century—with World War I, World War II and the Korean War all happening under Democratic administrations.

Where's The 'Squalor'?

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

For the first time in a number of years, this political commentator decided to skip the two national conventions. Instead, I decided to have a good look at the nation that the politicians want to operate on.

I left New York by automobile on the day the Democratic show ended and traveled to Los Angeles over what used to be called the Lincoln Highway. From here in Los Angeles, which is just recovering from the dizzying visitation of two weeks ago, I shall go to the Northwest and back East.

There is good authority for this manner of reporting on politics far from the madding throng.

Once upon a time, that great maestro of the political art, FDR, advised reporters to get out of Washington by means of a second-hand car and study the way the real people lived.

That was good advice. There is time for observation and much reflection on such a trip. I made no pretense of what is called "pulse taking" or interviewing. There isn't time for that.

Anyhow, the people from ocean to ocean are too busy working to accumulate the taxes which their ministering angels in Washington are planning to levy.

So I have no polls to report, and no analysis of how this country plans to vote in November. I doubt whether most people will think about that until the hot days are over.

IT IS WELL that I remained in New York to listen to what was said by the Democrats in Los Angeles, for I left with an awesome dread of what I was to see.

We were told by those Democratic orators that this country is in a dreadful state: Starving farmers, delapidated schools, decaying cities, obsolete highways.

In short, what one Democratic adviser called "public squalor."

I shall have more to report on what I saw on this trip but I am able to assure those who may be alarmed that the only thing they have to fear is the decay of politicians. The country is sound.

I offer only one example now to prove that there has been no neglect of the public services employed by all, the nation's highways. There is smooth, roomy evidence of the billions that have been spent in that sector of our public services.

For a thousand miles from New York there is not a single stop except for rest, gas, and tolls. Then for another thousand miles there are great stretches of newly complete highways, with occasional spots of construction.

Then, at the end of the journey from Evanston, Wyo., through Utah, Nevada, and California there is probably the finest strip of modern roadway west of the Mississippi

AS TO THE STATE of the farmers, I shall have more to say on another occasion.

But here I merely add some incontrovertible evidence of the falsity of the political charge that during the past few years the federal government has neglected its public services to the nation.

Between fiscal years 1953 and 1961 federal expenditures have increased 7 per cent. The population will have increased 13 per cent.

Federal spending for civilian purposes, which means public services to the nation, was 14½ billion in 1953. This fiscal year it will be $34,100,000,000, an increase of 135 per cent.

If there is, as the orators say, public squalor, there must have been dreadful waste by Congress. Also, if this be public squalor, it must have been something frightful when 20 years of Democratic supremacy came to an end 7½ years ago.

No Doubt About The Communists

Whatever disservices the Communists do to the free world, one major service they provide is the laying out in black and white of their objectives and their strategies.

Take, for example, the recent declaration printed in full in Pravda, which details just what the Kremlin's global strategy will be in the immediate future.

It says, first, that the way has now been prepared for this strategy because the international temperature has been raised to the point where everybody is worried about tensions that may explode into war. That pretty well confirms the suspicion that Nikita Khrushchev planned to blast the summit conference into diplomatic oblivion regardless of the U2. It also restates the old Communist maxim that Reds do best in a sea of unrest.

WITH THE WAY thus prepared, Pravda says, it is time to launch an international, double-barreled demand for a vast conference of all nations on disarmament. The Communists will deluge the United Nations with this campaign, and promote it throughout the world with local rallies, petitions and all the other techniques of a massive propaganda campaign.

They will play up the troubles in the Congo, Cuba and other sensitive areas in an effort to leave the United States standing helplessly and hopelessly alone.

The whole thing is being handled by the executive bureau of the World Council of Peace, a Kremlin group.

There, in plain language for all to see, is the Red plan, right from the horse's mouth. What more could the West want in the way of guidance as to its future action?

THE AMAZING part of this, looking back over international events of the last two years, is that none of it is new. Experts on the ways of communism have long warned that when the West falls for a "peaceful" Red line, it is closing its eyes to the handwriting on the wall.

The Communist objective—world domination—was set down more than 100 years ago by Karl Marx. It has been restated in a variety of ways by Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev, but the basic objective has never been changed.

The strategy by which the objective is to be achieved has never been changed, either. It uses unrest, fear, poverty, propaganda, alternate periods of quiet and violence—but always moving toward the final end of world domination by communism.

Naturally, successive Communist leaders must refine the strategy to fit the particular times in which they operate, but they all have restated the original objective and the basic strategy time and again for all the world to hear.

REALIZING THIS makes it easier to understand why some world leaders, President Eisenhower included, basically resist the Communist pressures to build an illusion of peaceful efforts, through such devices as summit conferences.

But it makes it difficult to understand why some other world leaders and many rank-and-file citizens increase the pressures by falling for the "peaceful coexistence" line.

A symptom that this predisposition to be lured into Communist traps still exists, even after the collapse of the summit conference, lies in the fact that we still tremble more at Red China's viciousness than we do at the Kremlin's cunning.

THE RED CHINESE bosses do not like the Kremlin's soft-soap line. They prefer more aggressive policies in furthering the Communist cause of world domination.

But a clearly recognizable enemy is easier to deal with than an oblique one. With Red China we know where we stand. With Russia, the picture is not always so clear to some as it should be.

The cause of world freedom would be better served if the Communists followed the Peiping line—because so many in the free world do not realize the Peiping line and the Kremlin line both lead in the same direction.

WASHINGTON—The ability of our economy to produce the goods and services we need for domestic programs and a strong defense has recently been called into question.

This issue of economic growth is a vital one to all Americans, to working men and women who desire security and a high standard of living, to businessmen seeking investment capital and funds for expansion and to governments faced with the need for providing more public services.

In a nation experiencing the beginnings of a huge population growth, this question of economic production will be a serious one for many years, especially since we have at the same time been called to a worldwide economic contest with the controlled Soviet economy that is building an industrial economy on the basis of individual exploitation rather than individual freedom.

CAN FREE MEN compete? Or, as some of the critics imply, must we turn over to government the responsibility for getting out the goods and services we need—of the proper kinds and for the right purposes?

These critics say we should. My answer is both an instinctive and a reasoned no.

Since space here does not permit a full discussion of the subject, I would merely post the warning that statistics measuring our rate of economic growth are seldom dissimilar periods, it is quite easy—and it is becoming quite fashionable, even among our "pundits"—to sell America short.

If it is a game, it has more than a little danger to it.

We are told, for example, that between 1947 and 1952, the economy was booming along at a prosperous 4.6 per cent average annual rate of growth, while between 1952 and 1959 we have done no better than 2.6 per cent.

These figures appear on Table 5 of the January 1960 Report of the Joint Economic Committee of the Congress.

This Table 5, a kind of "playing board" for those who find figures more fascinating than facts, looks and functions exactly like an automobile mileage chart.

One reads across the top to find the "starting" year and then down the margin to find the "terminal" year and where the columns cross, the proper figure appears.

The chart shows that the growth rate between 1947 and 1952 was indeed 4.6 per cent. But moving one "marker" back two years, so we cover a period from 1945 to 1952, we find a growth rate of only 1.7 per cent.

This example suffices, I think to make the point that short-term measurements of growth are more than deceptive. Between 1954 and 1957 the economy grew at 4 per cent, between 1954 and 1959 at 3.2 per cent—yet at the time these figures were recorded they caused no joy nor alarm because it was generally accepted that 1954, a recession year, was a bad place to start comparing following boom year rates.

THE SAME is true today. Any measurement from recession to boom yields a high rate; any measurement from boom to recession, say 1953 to 1958, a low rate. And none have value to the resolution of the argument, outside a dubious political value.

Over the long span, in the half-century from 1909 to 1959, the American economy grew at the steady rate of almost 3 per cent.

The greatest peacetime boom in history up to that time, 1953, left a highwater mark; the post-war recession left shallow water marks. But the economy has proceeded steadily and strongly upward until now we are producing more than $1,300,000,000 worth of goods and services in America every day, one-third of the world's total production.

Whether this is enough to support our private and public needs has been debated. Apparently unclear to those who argue for larger "government" spending is the fact that almost 35 cents of every dollar earned in America already goes for "government" purposes—but this includes all governments, not just federal.

One economist has recommended that government expenditures ought to rise to 110 billion dollars annually to goad the economy along.

Apparently he and others like him do not consider the money we now place in public enterprises, through all sectors of government, enough—yet the people have spent a full third of the total increase in national income since the war on such public purposes.

URGENCY is given to this plea for greater federal spending by comparison to Russia's rate of economic growth, but here again the comparisons are deceptive.

The truth of the matter seems to be that the production of the United States is now twice that of the Soviet Union, while the rate of economic growth over the last decade or so has been roughly half.

What this means is that the same volume of goods is being added each year to the economies of both countries—but the kinds of goods vary greatly.

Our own economic output includes a substantial amount of consumer goods and service. The Soviets spend their produced wealth on military equipment capital investment.

I believe that the Russian economy will never surpass our own. I also believe, however, that an increasing rate of economic growth in Russia is a serious challenge to our free enterprise system—a challenge we should face in our own way, by being ourselves more, not by becoming more like them.

As we face the decisions ahead, we should above all make sure that they are made on the basis of the truth, not on the shaky foundation of short-term growth rates that can be made to make any point if one knows where to start and where to end on the checkerboard.

GOP Backs Court Ruling

By James Marlow

CHICAGO

It has taken the Republicans, as a party, six wears to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools. The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in their party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.

Both parties of course, had their eye on the Southern white vote. Too hearty an endorsement of the court ruling was a cinch to cost votes in the South for the party bold enough to try it.

In their 1956 platform the Republicans wouldn't go any further than saying their "party accepts the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that racial discrimination in publicly supported schools must be progressively eliminated."

This was quite a long way from saying the party approved what the court did. President Eisenhower himself set the pace for such a caution by avoiding saying to this day that he approves the court's action.

But in 1956 the Democrats' platform was even more cagey than that of the Republicans. The Democrats, whose Southern members have been a constant obstacle to civil rights legislation in Congress, contented themselves with this:

"Recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States relating to segregation in publicly supported schools and elsewhere have brought consequences of vast importance to our nation as a whole and especially to communities directly affected."

It was hardly news that the court decision was going to force big changes.

Two weeks ago at Los Angeles the Democrats produced the strongest civil rights plank in their history—one which may cost them some Southern white votes—but still avoided flat endorsement of what the court did in 1954.

Southern delegates at the Democratic convention were unhappy over the whole civil rights plank of the party. Then the Republicans moved into Chicago for their convention.

Southern white Republican delegates fought against any strong civil rights plank, though Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he wanted a firm one.

For days the Republican Platform Committee—at a time when it knew the Democratic plank might cost the Democrats some white Southern votes — fiddled around with the idea of coming up with a less forthright plank than the Democrats.

In the end it produced a civil rights plank which in some ways was a little tougher than the Democrats' promises on civil rights and in other ways was a little softer.

But the Republicans' civil rights plank wound up being the strongest the party had yet produced. And, on the subject of the court's 1954 decision, the Republicans went further than the Democrats have ever cared or dared to go.

The Republicans said flatly: "We supported the position of the Negro school children even before the Supreme Court. We believe the Supreme Court school decision was right and should be carried out in accordance with the mandate of the court."

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Damages was estimated at $25,000 to crops in Hancock County during a heat wave.

Elmer Carey, secretary and manager of the East Liverpool Moose Lodge, was named an outside guard for the state convention in Akron.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Harold Lockhart twirled a no-hit, run game while Don McVay and Lawrence Brown pounded out homers to bring in all the runs as the Waterloo Tigers defeated the Grant St. Juniors, 4-0, in a ball game at Parsons Field.

Some 7,000 attended the opening session at the Hollow Rock camp meeting.

TEN YEARS AGO — Charles A. Hill of Malta, a graduate of Ohio University, was appointed band director at Wellsville High School.

Memberships in Columbiana County juvenile and subordinate granges reached an all-time high of 4,559.

Platform Picture

How To Achieve Goals Is The Difference

CHICAGO — It is difficult to avoid being cynical at these conventions, irrespective of which party holds them. For things are not always what they seem to be.

The words in the platforms and speeches are meant largely to catch votes and not necessarily to express any formula for governmental action on specific problems.

The row here over the platform is incredible. Just a few weeks ago the critics were saying Dick Nixon is a hard-boiled "reactionary" and that not a drop of "liberal" blood flows through his veins.

Today he is lined up with the newest of the "liberals," the governor of New York, Nelson Rockefeller. And the reporters have been telling the public that there was a chance of a Rockefeller-Nixon combination being formed to fight some of the platform committee's "moderate" recommendations.

What a change a few bits of dramatic byplay really make!

Actually, the Republican platform is basically a document that seeks all the worthwhile objectives which the Democrats extoll but looks for sound ways to achieve them—without bankrupting the Treasury, raising taxes unduly and killing off the free-enterprise system.

AS FOR the game of semantics on foreign policy and defense, it is doubtful whether the average man cares a whole lot about anything except peace in the world and a big enough deterrent power to prevent a war.

High-sounding phrases by themselves don't build missiles or keep our overseas bases manned with bombers for counterattack.

On "civil rights," the Republican platform is characterized by a sane realism. It doesn't propose, as do the Democrats, to change things "in all areas of community life," which is quite an order embracing doubtless the integration of private schools, private clubs and fraternal organizations were obviously the federal government at present has no constitutional powers anyway.

THE PLATFORM writers here are convinced that they can capture the South and keep Republican strength in the North by being fair to both races.

The Republican platform speaks of ending discrimination "in all areas of national life." If this means areas of life wherein the national government has jurisdiction, it's an improvement over the Democratic platform.

There is something noticeably present in this convention which was conspicuously absent at the Democratic convention.

Here they denounce Communism comprehensively and don't just light touch on it for fear of offendind the so-called "liberals." Former President Hoover, for instance, in his memorable address, said to the convention:

"We have also been brainwashed with another Communist basic tenet. They insist that love of country, pride of a people in their history, their ideals and their accomplishments is wicked nationalism.

"Ever since the war, the Communist 'fronts,' and the beatniks, and the eggheads have conducted a national chorus of denunciation of this wicked nationalism."

THE KEYNOTE speech of Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota poured it on the Democrats on another theme—the idea expressed by leading Democrats that the Republicans are responsible for the misbehavior of Khrushchev.

The other day former Gov. Averell Harriman of New York blamed the Republican administration for every untoward event abroad and said, "Look what is happening in Africa."

Sen. Kennedy, too, in his acceptance speech at Los Angeles, said:

"As our keynoter reminded us, the President who began his career by going to Korea ends it by staying away from Japan."

SO CONGRESSMAN Judd answered with a few reminders of his own, as he cried out to the convention:

"It wasn't a Republican administration which at Potsdam gave the Soviet Union East Germany and left West Berlin cut off from the rest of the free world."

Mr. Judd added some reminders also about the giveaways to the Soviet Union at the Yalta and Tereran conferences, conducted by a Democratic administration, as "600 million people disappeared behind the Iron Curtain."

This is a sample of what the argument about "lowered prestige" in the world may be like during the coming campaign.

BUT THE AVERAGE American will want to hear something besides mere words—he will want to know what the policies will really be that will keep America out of another war.

For the Republicans already are pointing to the record of the last half century—with World War I, World War II and the Korean War all happening under Democratic administrations.

Where's The 'Squalor'?

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

For the first time in a number of years, this political commentator decided to skip the two national conventions. Instead, I decided to have a good look at the nation that the politicians want to operate on.

I left New York by automobile on the day the Democratic show ended and traveled to Los Angeles over what used to be called the Lincoln Highway. From here in Los Angeles, which is just recovering from the dizzying visitation of two weeks ago, I shall go to the Northwest and back East.

There is good authority for this manner of reporting on politics far from the madding throng.

Once upon a time, that great maestro of the political art, FDR, advised reporters to get out of Washington by means of a second-hand car and study the way the real people lived.

That was good advice. There is time for observation and much reflection on such a trip. I made no pretense of what is called "pulse taking" or interviewing. There isn't time for that.

Anyhow, the people from ocean to ocean are too busy working to accumulate the taxes which their ministering angels in Washington are planning to levy.

So I have no polls to report, and no analysis of how this country plans to vote in November. I doubt whether most people will think about that until the hot days are over.

IT IS WELL that I remained in New York to listen to what was said by the Democrats in Los Angeles, for I left with an awesome dread of what I was to see.

We were told by those Democratic orators that this country is in a dreadful state: Starving farmers, delapidated schools, decaying cities, obsolete highways.

In short, what one Democratic adviser called "public squalor."

I shall have more to report on what I saw on this trip but I am able to assure those who may be alarmed that the only thing they have to fear is the decay of politicians. The country is sound.

I offer only one example now to prove that there has been no neglect of the public services employed by all, the nation's highways. There is smooth, roomy evidence of the billions that have been spent in that sector of our public services.

For a thousand miles from New York there is not a single stop except for rest, gas, and tolls. Then for another thousand miles there are great stretches of newly complete highways, with occasional spots of construction.

Then, at the end of the journey from Evanston, Wyo., through Utah, Nevada, and California there is probably the finest strip of modern roadway west of the Mississippi

AS TO THE STATE of the farmers, I shall have more to say on another occasion.

But here I merely add some incontrovertible evidence of the falsity of the political charge that during the past few years the federal government has neglected its public services to the nation.

Between fiscal years 1953 and 1961 federal expenditures have increased 7 per cent. The population will have increased 13 per cent.

Federal spending for civilian purposes, which means public services to the nation, was 14½ billion in 1953. This fiscal year it will be $34,100,000,000, an increase of 135 per cent.

If there is, as the orators say, public squalor, there must have been dreadful waste by Congress. Also, if this be public squalor, it must have been something frightful when 20 years of Democratic supremacy came to an end 7½ years ago.

Party 'Planks' Compared

By OVID A. MARTIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Here is a brief comparison between the civil rights plank adopted by the Democratic party and that approved by the Republican Platform Committee for submission to the party's convention tonight:

VOTING — Democrats pledged use of full powers of existing law to secure ballot for all. They promised to support action to eliminate state literacy tests and payment of poll taxes as requirements for voting.

The Republican plank also pledges use of existing law to end discrimination at the ballot box. But it pledged legislation to provide that completion of six primary grades in state accredited schools is conclusive evidence of literacy for voting purposes.

EDUCATION—Democrats promised to use full powers—legal and moral—to ensure the beginning of good faith compliance with the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision. They would give local school districts until 1963 to submit plans for first-step compliance with that decision.

The Republican plank pledged use of the Civil Rights Act of 1960 to prevent obstruction of court desegregation orders. It proposed legislation authorizing the Justice Department to bring actions for school desegregation in appropriate cases, as when economic coercion or threat of physical harm is used to deter persons from going to court to establish their rights. It rejected the Democratic proposal to give school districts three years to submit plans for beginning integration.

EMPLOYMENT — Democrats promised support of legislation to establish a fair employment practices commission to help end discrimination in employment. They also promised to use full executive powers to assure racial equality in federal employment and in all activities carried on under government contracts.

The Republican plank pledged creation of a commission on equal job opportunity to continue present federal efforts to end job discrimination on government contracts. It promised legislation to end discriminatory membership practices of some labor union locals, unless such practices are ended by the unions themselves. It pledged also development of a federal-state program to end discrimination in all employment areas.

HOUSING — Democrats promised to take action to end discrimination in federal housing programs.

The Republican plank pledged action to prohibit discrimination in housing constructed with aid of federal subsidies.

FEDERAL FACILITIES AND SERVICES — Democrats said the Justice Department should be empowered and directed to file civil injunction suits to prevent discrimination in all areas of community life, such as voting, schools, housing, jobs and public facilities.

The Republican plank promised to end discrimination in federal facilitites, to oppose use of federal funds for building segregated community facilities and to insure that public transportation and other government-authorized services are free of segregation.

SIT-IN DEMONSTRATIONS — Democrats said such peaceful affairs are a signal to the nation to make good in guaranteeing civil rights.

The Republican plank reaffirmed the constitutional right to peaceable assembly to protest discrimination in private business establishments, and applauded businessmen who have abandoned discriminatory practices.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE—Democrats said congressional procedure should be improved to permit majority rule.

The Republican plank pledged the party's best efforts to change congressional procedures that often make unattainable proper legislative action in the civil rights field.

the power was off as there was no way to summon them.

He said the department was swamped with calls of power poles on fire in various sections of town. They had been hit by lightning or shorted because of the water.

Chief Lewis said most of the calls were not answered as firemen feared a major fire might break out at a home. Several of the calls were investigated by individual firemen.

Tree limbs were blown down over the entire city. City crews were busy this morning collecting the debris. One crew had a large dump truck loaded before 8 a. m.

Robinson said no major water damage was reported. In the past storms, his office has been jammed with calls of sanitary sewers overflowing into cellars but such was not the case this time.

No major washout of dirt streets was reported. A barge broke loose from its moorings at the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal at 16th St. and drifted up the Ohio River several blocks, driven by the wind.

Ohio Power said some 75 to 80 homes in the 18th St. Heights area also were without power. It took about six hours to repair the damage and restore power.

Ohio Power said 800 to 900-feet of wire was felled on the Irish Ridge Rd. by a tree which was blown over at 11 p. m. About 12 customers were without service until 6 a. m. today.

The Liverpool Township West volunteer fire department and the Glenmoor volunteers were called to remain on standby.

Twelve men from the Liverpool department remained at the scene until 2:30 a. m. today and helped clear the road. Glenmoor sent two men and an ambulance.

Ohio Power said its crews worked all night to repair damage. Individual cases still were being answered at mid-morning.

The Glenmoor volunters also were called at 11:05 p. m. when a truck owned by the Darling & Co., a fats rendering plant at Cannons Mills, caught fire at Cornell Ave. and 3rd St. Firemen said a short developed in the wiring. The wiring and floor mat were burned, according to Chief Robert Jones.

The wind felled a large tree in the yard of Frank Justice of the Substation Rd. It fell away from the home.

The storm caused double-barreled trouble at one Wellsville home. Lightning struck a nearby utility pole, knocking out electrical service to the home for nearly 8 hours, and a 12-year-old girl was cut by flying glass from a broken pane in a door blown shut by the wind.

Janet Messer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Messer, 1802 Buckeye Ave., was cut on the left elbow and over the left ear by pieces of glass which flew when the kitchen door blew shut. Janet was on the back porch, hurrying to get inside because of the storm, the family said. She was given first aid by other members of the family.

She was cut about the time lightning struck the nearby utility pole. A transformer atop the pole burned for 5 to 10 minutes and service wires leading to the home also blazed, the family said. Its electrical service was restored about 4 this morning.

The wind raised the dock of the Wellsville Boat Club at 18th St., and several drums used as floats broke loose. One boat was lifted out of the water and set up on top of the dock. No others were damaged.

Wellsville's restaurants, bars and other business remained open during the storm, utilizing candles when the power went off.

The storm struck hard at widely-scattered areas in Chester, disrupting power service to many homes, knocking out a street light circuit and interrupting television reception from two service cables.

Street lights were doused in the entire area west from 4th St. when a large limb from a tree at the home of Herman Gowers of Virginia Ave. fell across a power line. The limb also interrupted service to five customers on the Community TV Antenna Service cable.

About 400 other television customers of the C. & S. Television Co. were without reception when another limb from a tree fell on two customer service drops.

The second limb fell across the Monongahela Power Co. line at the home of Ralph Sims of Indiana Ave., snapping the TV cable. Electric service to the two homes also was interrupted until repairs could be made.

A spokesman for Monongahela Power said there a primary line between California and Virginia Aves. burned. About half of the homes in the Mill Addition area were without lights until the line was repaired.

The spokesman reported that several transformers were struck by lightning in the rural areas, leaving customers without electric service in the Taylor's Bend area, Johnstonville, Middle Run Rd., Washington School Rd., and Allison School Rd.

Three emergency crews from Weirton helped the Chester crews restore service on the Monongahela lines.

The revival services were being held in the Prayer Temple's tent on Route 170 near Calcutta when the storm hit about 8:30.

The participants fled to their cars parked nearby as the winds, estimated at 30 to 35 miles an hour velocity with heavier gusts, ripped the canvass to shreds.

They fled through the driving rain and high winds to the safety of their cars.

A spokesman at the home of the Rev. Harry Lane, pastor of the temple who conducts the tent services, said damage was estimated at $5,000.

The loss has halted the tent services and will continue at the temple, with Evangelist Joseph DeGardo of Dallas, Tenn., in charge. Rev. Layne Lane is in Ashland, Ky., where he is conducting revival services.

At least three trees were reported blown down in East End, according to reports given street department crews—one each on adjoining Railroad and Beleek Sts. in the western section of the First Ward and another near the Horace Mann School on Erie St.

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said reports filed with his office indicated the city escaped major damage to its facilities, although there were the usual complaints of clogged gutters and storm sewer drops. The troublesome East End Run overflowed again, but apparently there was no serious damage, the director said.

In East Liverpool, city firemen were called out three times during the storm to remain on standby basis when power line trouble developed.

A large tree blew over against a service entrance line at the home of Robert E. Leigh, 901 St. George St., about 9 p. m. Firemen said the tree caught fire from the sparks and a booster line was used. The home was not damaged. Firemen remained at the scene over two hours until the damage was repaired by Ohio Power linemen.

At the same time, power lines were blown down by the wind on Martin St., firemen said.

Firemen were called again at 11:19 when a power pole at Beleek and State Sts. shorted and caught fire. No. 2 station responded.

Firemen said they received reports of small branches blown from trees all over town.

In the Lisbon vicinity, a bolt of lightning may have been responsible for the fire which gutted much of the interior of the six-room frame home of Harry Mitchell who resides south of Lisbon off Route 164.

Lisbon village firemen answered the alarm at 7:53 and extinguished the blaze. The family had gone to Guilford Lake for swimming.

No estimate of the damage was made by firemen. The home is located in Hephner Hollow.

Power interruptions of about 90 minutes were reported in the rural sections outside Lisbon, including the area to the northwest and the Guilford Lake area, but there was no interruption inside the village proper.

Midland also escaped the brunt of the storm. A few tree limbs were blown down but no major damage was reported.

Dam 8 at Newell logged the storm at 8:20 but it was preceded by brisk winds that reached near gale velocity as the front moved in to the Ohio Valley.

The rain measured 0.56 inch before the storm ended about 10:15 but most of it fell in the half hour of the intense winds. It tapered to a drizzle after that.

There was one consolation — it ended a humid heat wave after the mercury soared to a sticky high of 92 degrees in the afternoon.

The mercury fell to 85 degrees by 8 p. m. then tumbled another 10 degrees as the storm moved across the district. It fell later to 71 as the night's low.

The Ohio weatherman said today will be somewhat cooler with a high range of 79 to 83 expected. Tonight will be fair with little temperature change and the low will be 58 to 63.

protest gesture. It would be directed primarily at the foreordained adoption by the convention of a platform liberalized by Nixon with a vital assist from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Rockefeller had dallied with the idea of permitting his name to be submitted for the top nomination. The draft didn't blow, and Rockefeller formally stepped aside.

Pleased with the revised planks on national defense and civil rights he had helped Nixon drive through a recalcitrant platform committee, Rockefeller announced he would not permit his name to be offered. If it were offered without his permission he said, he would demand that it be erased from the roll call.

The New York governor personally made the motion by which his state delegation unanimously pledged its 96 votes to the vice president—a gesture of good will the Nixon forces relished because of its possible benefits in carrying New York in November.

Rockefeller's feeling about the platform was shared by Nixon, the vice president said through his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, that the committee had done "an outstanding job," especially on a civil rights plank.

The plank was strengthened only after all-night work on reluctant delegates by Nixon's aides.

This provision, adopted over the protests of Southerners and some Westerners, included a section inveighing against any discrimination by stores against Negro customers.

Free Methodists Re-Elect 4 District Superintendents

Four district superintendents were re-elected at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church Tuesday at the denomination's Anderson Blvd. campgrounds.

They include: the Rev. R. L. Page of East Liverpool, the Rev. D. W. Harris of Uniontown, the Rev. R. L. Armstrong of Pittsburgh and the Rev. H. W. Vanvalin of Fairmont.

Four laymen also were elected to serve on the station committee, along with the superintendents. They are H. D. Kingcaid of Fairmont, Edward H. Savage of Hopewood, Pa., D. L. Wood of Tarentum, Pa., and M. C. Baker of New Brighton.

Memorial services were held Tuesday afternoon for the deceased wives of two active ministers and two widows.

Dr. M. A. Tenney of Greenville, Ill., spoke at the Tuesday night service. His subject was "Our Heritage."

Three deacons were ordained this morning. They include: the Rev. Donald Vorp, currently a student at the Wilmore (Ky.) Seminary; the Rev. Milford Wagner of McKeesport, Pa., and the Rev. S. H. Estel of the West Virginia District.

Another feature of this morning's session was the receiving into the conference of the Rev. J. L. Heise of Farmington, Pa., from another denomination. He was recognized as having deacon's orders.

Election of new committees will be held this afternoon, followed by a talk by Dr. Tenney on "Great Women of the Church."

Miss Verna Tite of Winona Lake, Ill., will present the missionary address tonight.

Wellsville Hit By Wind, Rain

the power was off as there was no way to summon them.

He said the department was swamped with calls of power poles on fire in various sections of town. They had been hit by lightning or shorted because of the water.

Chief Lewis said most of the calls were not answered as firemen feared a major fire might break out at a home. Several of the calls were investigated by individual firemen.

Tree limbs were blown down over the entire city. City crews were busy this morning collecting the debris. One crew had a large dump truck loaded before 8 a. m.

Robinson said no major water damage was reported. In the past storms, his office has been jammed with calls of sanitary sewers overflowing into cellars but such was not the case this time.

No major washout of dirt streets was reported. A barge broke loose from its moorings at the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal at 16th St. and drifted up the Ohio River several blocks, driven by the wind.

Expanded Free Seed Plan Studied In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Agriculture Department already is talking about expanding its free garden seed and plant program into all parts of West Virginia next year, at a possible cost of up to $50,000.

The office of Commissioner John T. Johnson said that this year's limited program for the indigent and unemployed apparently has succeeded beyond even the department's fondest hopes and estimates.

"We won't have final, definite information until the West Virginia University Agricultural Extension Service completes a detailed survey," Assistant Commissioner Gus R. Douglass explained. "That will take a few more weeks."

HE POINTED to "early returns," however, as showing that more than 90 per cent of the seeds and plants distributed actually were used. "If you get 50 per cent results from such a giveaway program, you've done well," he observed.

The 1960 legislature appropriated $300,000 for use by Johnson's department for garden and other temporary economic programs fashioned to combat the effects of a recession in coal-producing and other counties.

It soon became apparent, however, that none of the money would be available until the beginning of the new fiscal year July 1—far too late to be of benefit in the 1960 growing season.

Gov. Underwood then came to the department's aid with $15,000 from his contingent fund. That purchased 10,000 kits of assorted garden seeds and 7,740 more each containing tomato, cabbage and sweet potato plants.

THROUGH local committees set up in a cooperative program engineered by Johnson's department and the extension service, the seeds were made available to needy in 19 counties in April and the plants in 13 counties in late May.

"We've been helped along by several encouraging factors," Douglass emphasized, "including an almost surprisingly small amount of insect damage to gardens and an extremely good growing season."

County agricultural agents, who have played key roles on local committees and served as clearing houses for necessary correspondence, generally have tabbed the seed and plant program one well worth the expense.

"Of 198 applicants for seeds," one county agent reported, "all had at least one-fourth acre of land available for gardens, and 125 had an acre or more. Only 11 did not hve tools."

Among data the extension service survey will provide will be that pointing up any needs for inclusion in future programs of provisions for tools and fertilizer.

"Preliminary figures indicate that an average of about six persons will benefit this year from each seed or plant kit," Douglass said. "Next year, we plan to assist more individuals, depending on economic conditions then."

THE LIMITED 1960 program was centered in counties considered most in need of help. Douglass said that some of those purchased additional plant kits from funds donated by various groups.

There also were numerous instances where land was donated to needy for gardens. One county agent reported a widespread clearing of land for garden plots and described production on some of those as "amazing."

Bike Accident Injures Youth

A 13-year-old Wellsville district boy suffered a severe concussion Tuesday afternoon when thrown over the handlebars of his bicycle after a wheel locked as he rode on the Old Irondale Rd. near the intersection with Route 39.

He is Charles Robert Hawk Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawk of the Old Irondale Rd. Admitted to City Hospital, he is in "guarded' condition today.

Expanded Free Seed Plan Studied In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Agriculture Department already is talking about expanding its free garden seed and plant program into all parts of West Virginia next year, at a possible cost of up to $50,000.

The office of Commissioner John T. Johnson said that this year's limited program for the indigent and unemployed apparently has succeeded beyond even the department's fondest hopes and estimates.

"We won't have final, definite information until the West Virginia University Agricultural Extension Service completes a detailed survey," Assistant Commissioner Gus R. Douglass explained. "That will take a few more weeks."

HE POINTED to "early returns," however, as showing that more than 90 per cent of the seeds and plants distributed actually were used. "If you get 50 per cent results from such a giveaway program, you've done well," he observed.

The 1960 legislature appropriated $300,000 for use by Johnson's department for garden and other temporary economic programs fashioned to combat the effects of a recession in coal-producing and other counties.

It soon became apparent, however, that none of the money would be available until the beginning of the new fiscal year July 1—far too late to be of benefit in the 1960 growing season.

Gov. Underwood then came to the department's aid with $15,000 from his contingent fund. That purchased 10,000 kits of assorted garden seeds and 7,740 more each containing tomato, cabbage and sweet potato plants.

—:—

THROUGH local committees set up in a cooperative program engineered by Johnson's department and the extension service, the seeds were made available to needy in 19 counties in April and the plants in 13 counties in late May.

"We've been helped along by several encouraging factors," Douglass emphasized, "including an almost surprisingly small amount of insect damage to gardens and an extremely good growing season."

County agricultural agents, who have played key roles on local committees and served as clearing houses for necessary correspondence, generally have tabbed the seed and plant program one well worth the expense.

"Of 198 applicants for seeds," one county agent reported, "all had at least one-fourth acre of land available for gardens, and 125 had an acre or more. Only 11 did not hve tools."

Among data the extension service survey will provide will be that pointing up any needs for inclusion in future programs of provisions for tools and fertilizer.

"Preliminary figures indicate that an average of about six persons will benefit this year from each seed or plant kit," Douglass said. "Next year, we plan to assist more individuals, depending on economic conditions then."

—:—

THE LIMITED 1960 program was centered in counties considered most in need of help. Douglass said that some of those purchased additional plant kits from funds donated by various groups.

There also were numerous instances where land was donated to needy for gardens. One county agent reported a widespread clearing of land for garden plots and described production on some of those as "amazing."

Ohio

to beat on Nixon's door seeking permission to elect convention delegates in his behalf and the vice president let the Buckeye delegates know he hasn't forgotten it.

Noting that through his father he could claim Ohio roots, Nixon expressed affection for the state because:

"You were so kind to me when I wasn't even out there (as an avowed candidate)."

The presidential nominee-apparent had a word of high praise for the Republican Party in Ohio when he referred to it as "one of the best-organized states in America."

Obviously, a good part of that compliment was directed toward Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss who has been serving on the Nixon staff. It appears from this and other indications in Chicago that Bliss will be a figure in the high command which directs the Nixon campaign.

Bliss told inquiring newsmen that he has been so busy at the Nixon headquarters that he has had no opportunity to do any planning on the nominee-apparent's Ohio itinerary.

His responses to newsmen's questions about vice presidential possibilities indicated he is aware of current developments, but he would not go beyond that. Because of his position in the setup here in Chicago, Bliss explained, he feared that any comment he might make about vice presidential possibilities could be misconstrued.

On the two previous occasions, opponents of the tax forced a vote on legislation enacted by Council. The latest proposal is unique in that it originated with a citizens' group, not the city's official family.

Each of the 20 petitions in circulation has spaces for 90 names. One of the circulators commented he had difficulty obtaining signatures in favor of the vote, although he said his experience may not be typical.

"So far, I have signatures in 18 of the spaces," he said. "If I had been trying to get signatures against an income tax I would have filled the petition without trouble."

However, backers of the tax measure said they hope to have more than the minimum number of signatures in order to turn over the petitions to the auditor by Friday.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I sharpen the blade of a knife, a plane, chisel or other cutting tool when there is no honing stone available?

A. You can do this job very nicely with a piece of emery cloth laid out on a flat, smooth surface. Be sure to vary the pressure on the tool, bearing down hard at first in order to wear down the edge even, then gradually decreasing your pressure so as to produce a keen cutting edge.

Q. What is a remedy for dandruff?

A. Dissolve one ounce of flour of sulphur in one quart of soft water. Do not use it until it is thoroughly mixed and settled. Apply it at night.

Q. What is a simple and effective substitute shoe polish I can improvise for either black or brown shoes?

A. Try simply sprinkling some lemon juice over the shoes, then polishing them vigorously.

Q. How can I make a good temporary repair in a door or window screen?

A. Brush the area around the hole with some shellac and then apply a patch cut from some mosquito netting. Brush some shellac over this patch on both sides to stiffen it and cement down any loose ends.

Q. How can I do a good job of cleaning the inside bottom of a deep, narrow vase?

A. Use a double sheet of newspaper rolled into a compact cylinder. Clip and fray one end to provide a brush for scouring the bottom and sides of the vase with a cleaning solution.

Q. How can I extract more juice from lemons?

A. Try putting them under the hot - water faucet before slicing.

Steel Firm To Cut Incentive Wages

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Steel Co. plans to cut back incentive wage rates, effective Aug. 7. The company notified the United Steelworkers of the action Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Steel employs 7,700 workers at plants in Monessen and Allenport, Pa., Akron and Warren, Ohio, and Worcester, Mass. The plan will affect 23 per cent of the hourly employes whose incentive rates are above 50 per cent.

The company said that "out-of-line" incentive rates have pushed its employment cost 46-cents-an-hour higher than the rest of the steel industry.

These rates are preventing the company from competing on a profitable basis with other companies, Pittsburgh Steel told the union.

Paper money was first issued in the United States on March 10, 1862.

Steel Firm To Cut Incentive Wages

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Steel Co. plans to cut back incentive wage rates, effective Aug. 7. The company notified the United Steelworkers of the action Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Steel employs 7,700 workers at plants in Monessen and Allenport, Pa., Akron and Warren, Ohio, and Worcester, Mass. The plan will affect 23 per cent of the hourly employes whose incentive rates are above 50 per cent.

The company said that "out-of-line" incentive rates have pushed its employment cost 46-cents-an-hour higher than the rest of the steel industry.

These rates are preventing the company from competing on a profitable basis with other companies, Pittsburgh Steel told the union.

Paper money was first issued in the United States on March 10, 1862.

City Blocked In Dairy Case

A temporary order restraining the city from interfering with operations of McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren was served Tuesday on city officials, throwing the case back where it was 18 months ago.

The temporary order was secured when counsel for the dairy firm filed an appeal with the 7th District Court of Appeals in Youngstown over a decision handed down in Common Pleas Court late in May and made official Monday when Judge Joel H. Sharp signed the journal entry.

The order halting any action by the city interfering with the company's operations was served on administration and Board of Health officials yesterday afternoon by sheriff's deputies, shortly after it had been filed with the Common Pleas Court clerk, who also acts as clerk of the district court.

Judge Sharp's decision threw out an action brought by the dairy firm against the city and dissolved another temporary order granted the company to prevent the city from any action.

The long-standing dispute over a milk permit dates back to November 1958, when the Board of Health refused to issue the firm a city permit, and a short time later a McAllister driver was arrested for delivering milk illegally into the city for sale.

The company promptly filed the Common Pleas Court action which was dismissed by Judge Sharp after 13 days of testimony and argument starting a year ago.

Palestine Judge Fines 7 District Motorists

Seven area motorists are among those fined by County Judge Earl Spalding of East Palestine for traffic violations.

Those cited include:

Hazel Laughlin of Fisher Park, $15 and costs, illegal passing, and Joseph Banik, 953 Ambrose Ave., $10 and costs, crossing over a yellow line, both of East Liverpool; Margaret E. Robbins, 707 Broadway, Wellsville, $15 and costs, speeding.

Dock Johnson of Hammondsville R. D. 1, $50 and costs, illegal parking; Herbert Chuck of West Point, $10 and costs, speeding; Walter Kent of New Waterford, $15 and costs, failure to signal, and Leeman Crawford of New Waterford R. D. 1, $10 and costs, reckless operation.

An arapaima is a South American fresh-water food fish that sometimes weighs more than 400 pounds.

Drunken Driving Seen As Changing Car To 'Missile'

Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors changes the automobile from "a pleasure vehicle to one of our most destructive guided missiles," according to H. Jud English of East Liverpool, director of sales and service of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

His comment was contained in another release by the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council.

"In time of peace it changes our streets and highways from their use for necessary and pleasure purposes into a fearful battlefield. Blood is shed, loved ones are lost. Why must intelligent human beings be so narrow as to force destruction on the innocent? If one must drink, don't drive and if it is necessary to drive, don't drink.

"Reactions to the effects of alcohol are different. Perhaps it can be described as bottled false courage, which instills a feeling of indestructability to the imbibers.

"Perhaps it is disregard for decency, or just a lulled sense of responsibility. Perhaps we are not educated in the field of drinking, or do not appreciate the extent to which the reactions and the co-ordination of our physical bodies are affected.

"Having had some years experience in the automotive field and having viewed the results of the war of our highways, rarely can mechanical defects be blamed for our traffic death rate or the tremendous cost of property loss. Not all, but many road disasters can be blamed on the drinker.

"However, with one exception it can be proven there are no benefits derived in driving ability when under the influence of alcohol. There is room for theory that many drivers involved in accidents while drinking, suffer less injury to themselves due to relaxation of their bodies at the time. However, too often it is the other person who is seriously injured or killed," English said.

Vandals Destroy Wildlife Exhibit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Nearly all of the wildlife exhibit at the Trailside Museum in the Rocky River Reservation of the Cleveland Metropolitan Park System has been wiped out by vandals.

All that remain are three turtles and a few small fish.

Authorities said Tuesday that vandals had drowned a pet hawk in a fish aquarium, killed a pet skunk with a .22-caliber rifle, killed fish by tossing a bottle of carbon tetrachloride into an aquarium, chopped 10 snakes to pieces with a knife, tossed a fox in a cage into the Rocky River to drown and threw hydrochloric acid onto a pet crow, causing it to die slowly.

Harold Wallin, park naturalist, placed the blame on older youths "with a vicious nature." He said he was doubtful that replacement animals could be obtained this late in the year and that the museum might have to close.

The wildlife is collected each spring throughout the vast reservation, put on display for children during the summer months and then released in the fall.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am so embarrassed I could just die. I've been going steady with an awfully sweet guy who works in the same department store. I'm 20, and he's 21.

Dale is from a small town about 100 miles from here. He goes home every other Sunday and takes his soiled laundry so his mother can wash and iron it.

Yesterday I got a brief note from Dale's mother—whom I've never met. She wrote:

"Dear Miss—: The lipstick you are using is indelible and it is ruining Dale's shirts. I would appreciate it very much if you would change brands. Thank you very much. Mrs.—."

This woman may be my mother-in-law one day and I don't want to make any mistakes. What shall I do?—INDELIBLE IMPRESSION.

-:-

Dear Indelible: Change brands at once and drop Dale's mother a note informing her of the switch.

Domineering Son

Dear Ann: You column is great for teen-agers, but I'm 42 years old and I've just realized that I have more trouble than I'm capable of handling.

My husband is on the road constantly. I have an 18-year-old son who is driving me berserk.

What am I supposed to do? Let him have the car whenever he wants it? Turn over the house to him and his friends and lock myself in my room so the kids won't feel "inhibited"? Or should I get tough and put him in the Army as soon as possible and let them worry about him for the next two years?

I need a rest from this kid. He is becoming unbearable. Thanks for any answer you may give. You aren't always right but you do your best.—PRESCOTT ARIZONA.

Dear Mother: If this boy is 18 and you're just realizing he's more than you can handle, where have you been for the last several years?

No—you're not supposed to give him the car whenever he wants it, or let him take over the house. You're supposed to let him know that if he wants privileges he must accept responsibilities.

What does this kid have to do besides live it up? The boy's father is partly to blame whether he's been on the road or not.

Don't expect the Army to transform your son into a model of perfection. They have to work with the material they get. Maybe a change of environment, away from the hostility and friction of home, will be good for the boy. You should have had professional help a long time ago. Good luck.

Wedding Reunion

Dear Ann: I'm a 19-year-old girl who is making wedding plans. I need help and I don't mean with etiquette problems. I have serious people problems.

My mother has been married five times. I have an aunt who has been married four times. Most of my mother's husbands have been pretty nice. I can say the same for my aunt. We are all on good terms—visit in each other's homes and everyone is very friendly.

How do you think it would look if I invited all the former husbands to my wedding. I don't want to hurt any feelings, Ann, but I would hate to do the wrong thing.—BONNIE.

Dear Bonnie: It will probably look like a National Guard reunion. If, however, your mother and aunt are on good terms with all their former husbands and their presence would not make you uncomfortable, invite them.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lisbon Man Ruled Illegally Jailed And Is Released

LISBON — A Lisbon man, committed to jail by Mayor Dean Stockman on a charge of breaking and entering under the state code, was released on a writ of habeas corpus at a hearing Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who ruled mayors of villages have no jurisdiction on actions of this type.

Libbie Senior, 50, of 131 W. High St. was freed from the Columbiana County Jail, where he was committed May 4 by Stockman. Senior had been bound over to the Grand Jury under $500 bond.

The charges of breaking and entering were filed by Edward L. Carney, a son-in-law of Senior. Judge Buzzard ruled Senior was being held illegally and that the commitment was void. In his ruling, Judge Buzzard said Senior was charged under a state code and that village mayors have jurisdiction only on traffic violations occurring in the village and under village ordinances.

4 Ohioans Lose Lives When Car, Van Collide

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Four Cleveland residents were killed Tuesday when their automobile collided head-on with a motor van on U.S. 42 a mile north of here.

The dead are listed by the Highway Patrol as:

Mrs. Josephine Smith, 40, wife of the driver of the automobile.

Howard Brown, 6, a nephew of the Smiths.

Juliette Allen Moore, about 45.

Lucy Conkle, 55.

A southbound van driven by Charles Planer, 56, of Norwood, collided head-on with a car driven by Elzia Smith, 44, the patrol said. Both drivers were taken to Jane Case Hospital with multiple injuries.

The passengers in the Smith automobile were dead on arrival at the hospital.

The collision demolished the automobile. The van overturned.

John C. Breckinridge was only 35 years old when he was elected vice president of the United States in 1856.

Steel Output Seen 'Low' For August

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry is beginning to receive orders from auto makers but the outlook for August production is disappointing, Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication said mills are trying to borrow from September production by asking users to take delivery of steel in August.

The rate of incoming orders for August, according to Iron Age, is so low that some mills are hard pressed to keep equipment running until they can bunch orders.

Orders have started coming in from medium and small supplier companies as well as the auto manufacturers, many of whom had bought little or nothing in recent months.

All product lines—hot and cold rolled sheet and strip, carbon and alloy bars and stainless steel—are represented.

Suppliers are ordering on normal 45-day lead times, indicating they are not filling holes in inventories. Some companies, principally parts suppliers, are placing orders for October and November.

Auto makers' orders call for September delivery, indicating production of 1961 models is set to start in October.

Tire Workers Asked To Vote Strike Power

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 18,000 production workers in Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants in eight cities will be asked Friday to vote strike authority to United Rubber Workers negotiators who are bargaining here to increase pay that averages $2.85 an hour.

Such strike authority has been granted in the past during wage talks and, a union spokesman pointed out, does not necessarily indicate trouble at the bargaining table. The URW and Firestone opened negotiations here July 18. If no agreement is reached by midnight, Aug. 2, the current contract could be cancelled.

The union has not disclosed the amount of a substantial wage increase it has said it seeks for Firestone workers at plants in Akron; Los Angeles; Des Moines; Memphis; Noblesville and New Castle, Ind.; Fall River, Mass.; and Pottstown, Pa.

Cosby Claims He'd Rather Die Than Serve Life Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph L. Cosby, who'd rather die in the electric chair than spend a life in prison, awaits word today from the man who must make the choice for him.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, after listening to the "missing" witness in the Cosby murder case, said he will decide probably Thursday whether to spare the condemned man's life.

Cosby, 23, is scheduled to be executed at Ohio Penitentiary Friday night for the robbery-slaying of Cleveland shoe store manager Raymond Mack on Oct. 10,1958.

DiSalle disclosed that Cosby notified the prison chaplain Tuesday that he'd rather go to his death than face life imprisonment. That makes it an even tougher decision for the governor, a personal foe of capital punishment.

The "missing" witness in the Cosby case, 27-year-old Alice Hall of Cleveland, told the governor she wasn't really missing at all. She said she was available to testify during Cosby's trial and couldn't understand why police couldn't find her.

The governor was mystified about that, too. He asked Cleveland authorities to explain when they met with him Tuesday night along with Miss Hall and her common - law husband, Elijah Howard, 29, a material witness in the Cosby case.

Miss Hall claimed she was not in hiding and frequented her regular haunts. And Howard claimed he exchanged letters with her while he was being held in jail as a material witness and that authorities knew about the letters.

Cleveland detective Frank Moss said police checked every address they had for Miss Hall but she wasn't there.

Asst. Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Reuben Payne told newsmen he doubted if Miss Hall could have contributed much testimony in the Cosby trial beyond that given by Howard.

Miss Hall told reporters she knew nothing about the holdup-slaying, and didn't know she was wanted until she saw her picture in the newspapers Tuesday. The picture followed an appeal by Gov. DiSalle that she step forward and talk to him about the case.

Miss Hall said she only saw Cosby twice in her life. The first time was in a Cleveland alley when she said she saw him displaying a gun to a group of men. She couldn't remember the date, but Howard, who was with her, said it was Oct. 10, 1958 — the day of the slaying, and, according to Payne, a few hours before it happened.

Miss Hall said she next saw Cosby at the police station where she identified him as the man who showed off the gun.

DiSalle, undecided about visiting Cosby in death row, said the condemned man claims he is innocent. But the governor said Cosby is guilty of something since he was at the slaying scene, a shoe store, with a loaded gun, in violation of parole.

Cosby claimed he was in the store to make another deposit on a pair of shoes, that he heard a scuffle in the rear, drew his gun to help the manager (the victim, Mack), and that the gun went off accidentally when one of two men bumped him as they rushed by him.

Cosby testified at his trial that those two men actually staged the holdup, and that one of them was Howard, who once served time for armed robbery.

'Bigtime' Gunman Surrenders After Kidnaping Couple

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A man who allegedly forced a suburban Northridge couple to drive him away from the area of two robberies — far away — was in the hands of the law today.

Accused kidnaper James Kinsey, 29, who reputedly said he was "going to become a big-time gangster" and set about it by holding up two gas stations and making Gary Opdyke, 25, and his wife, Mary, 20, take him to Indianapolis early Tuesday, turned himself in to the FBI early today.

Kinsey said he had just got back to Dayton—from Chicago, he said—and when he learned the FBI was looking for him, he called and told officers to come and get him. FBI men and Chief Deputy Tom Wilson of the Montgomery County sheriff's office obliged.

Kinsey was to be arraigned before the U.S. commissioner here today on a kidnaping charge.

The Opdykes, doing their washing at a coin-operated laundry at 2:40 in the morning, suddenly found themselves face to face with a man and a revolver in the alleged kidnapping incident. This was at a time when law enforcement officers were combing the area for the gunman who had just robbed two Harrison Twp. service stations.

The gunman herded the couple into their car and, keeping his weapon trained on them as all rode in the front seat, directed them to head toward Indianapolis on U.S. 40.

He didn't harm them before leaving them in Indianapolis and paying them $11 for their "services."

A sister-in-law of Kinsey's first put officers on his trail before the holdups. She reported he came to her house and threatened her with a gun, saying he was "going to become a big-time gangster."

Cosby Claims He'd Rather Die Than Serve Life Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph L. Cosby, who'd rather die in the electric chair than spend a life in prison, awaits word today from the man who must make the choice for him.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, after listening to the "missing" witness in the Cosby murder case, said he will decide probably Thursday whether to spare the condemned man's life.

Cosby, 23, is scheduled to be executed at Ohio Penitentiary Friday night for the robbery-slaying of Cleveland shoe store manager Raymond Mack on Oct. 10,1958.

DiSalle disclosed that Cosby notified the prison chaplain Tuesday that he'd rather go to his death than face life imprisonment. That makes it an even tougher decision for the governor, a personal foe of capital punishment.

The "missing" witness in the Cosby case, 27-year-old Alice Hall of Cleveland, told the governor she wasn't really missing at all. She said she was available to testify during Cosby's trial and couldn't understand why police couldn't find her.

The governor was mystified about that, too. He asked Cleveland authorities to explain when they met with him Tuesday night along with Miss Hall and her common - law husband, Elijah Howard, 29, a material witness in the Cosby case.

Miss Hall claimed she was not in hiding and frequented her regular haunts. And Howard claimed he exchanged letters with her while he was being held in jail as a material witness and that authorities knew about the letters.

Cleveland detective Frank Moss said police checked every address they had for Miss Hall but she wasn't there.

Asst. Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Reuben Payne told newsmen he doubted if Miss Hall could have contributed much testimony in the Cosby trial beyond that given by Howard.

Miss Hall told reporters she knew nothing about the holdup-slaying, and didn't know she was wanted until she saw her picture in the newspapers Tuesday. The picture followed an appeal by Gov. DiSalle that she step forward and talk to him about the case.

Miss Hall said she only saw Cosby twice in her life. The first time was in a Cleveland alley when she said she saw him displaying a gun to a group of men. She couldn't remember the date, but Howard, who was with her, said it was Oct. 10, 1958 — the day of the slaying, and, according to Payne, a few hours before it happened.

Miss Hall said she next saw Cosby at the police station where she identified him as the man who showed off the gun.

DiSalle, undecided about visiting Cosby in death row, said the condemned man claims he is innocent. But the governor said Cosby is guilty of something since he was at the slaying scene, a shoe store, with a loaded gun, in violation of parole.

Cosby claimed he was in the store to make another deposit on a pair of shoes, that he heard a scuffle in the rear, drew his gun to help the manager (the victim, Mack), and that the gun went off accidentally when one of two men bumped him as they rushed by him.

Cosby testified at his trial that those two men actually staged the holdup, and that one of them was Howard, who once served time for armed robbery.

Curried Pot Roast Is New Flavor Specialty

Something quite wonderful can happen to your meals when you become conscious of flavors and experiment with blending them.

For instance, a touch of curry powder can turn a beef pot roast into something quite special. It can add that quality of extra-goodness which earns a homemaker a reputation as a good cook.

Curried Pot Roast

3 to 4-pound arm or blade pot roast
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon curry powder
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup water
2 stalks, celery, cut in 1 - inch pieces
12 small onions
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans
¼ cup flour

Mix two tablespoons flour, salt, pepper and curry powder. Dredge pot-roast with seasoned flour and brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water. Cover tightly and simmer 2½ hours.

On civil rights the GOP platform comes close to matching the pledges made by the Democrats. Some Republican pledges go further, such as one to sponsor legislation to end membership discrimination against Negroes in labor unions if the unions don't do it themselves.

But whereas the Democrats pledge support for new federal power to obtain court injunctions in all fields of possible racial equality violations, the Republicans advocate such power only in school segregation cases.

The GOP civil rights plank omitted specific reference to sit-in demonstrations—a point insisted upon by moderates.

Like the Democrats, the GOP promises to overhaul legislative procedures that in the past have been used to block action on racial equality measures.

Fekett In Field To Fill Post On District Court

Law Director S. S. Fekett of Youngstown is reported among the field of Democratic attorneys and judges being considered by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for appointment in the interim vacancy on the Seventh District Court of Appeals caused by the death Friday of Judge Elmer T. Phillips of Youngstown.

The interim appointee will serve until a Republican successor to Judge Phillips is chosen at the Nov. 8 general election. Gov. DiSalle has indicated he will not act upon the appointee until the bar associations in the 13 counties of the judicial district have an opportunity to make recommendations, an aide to the governor said yesterday at Columbus.

The Republican Central Committees in the 13-county district are scheduled to name a candidate for Judge Phillips' unexpired term. The name must be filed by Aug. 25 with the Mahoning County Election Board, which has administrative authority in the district because it is the "most populous" county.

Youngstown sources said Probate Judge Louis Tobin of Columbiana County also is being considered for the appointment. But the judge denied the report, saying he is not interested and has not applied, and added he is backing a Columbiana County man.

Fekett has been Youngstown law director since January, when he was appointed in the new administration of Mayor Frank R. Franko. He is widely-known in Columbiana County as a defense counsel in some of the East Liverpool police burglary trials.

Meanwhile, Atty. John J. Lynch of Youngstown, a Demcorat, filed suit yesterday in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court, seeking a declaratory judgment against the Mahoning County Election Board that would permit him to run for Judge Phillips' unexpired term.

A former state representative and now an assistant state attorney general in the Youngstown district, Lynch contends in his action that the Election Board has advised him there is no way he can circulate petitions and become a candidate for the post. Such a ruling is contrary to the State Constitution, he contends.

Potato Growers Meet

LISBON — Thirty-eight potato growers from Columbiana and Mahoning Counties attended the annual twilight meeting Tuesday at the Thompson Potato Farm near Gavers and the Tritten Farm, west of Lisbon. William Blair, extension entomologist at Ohio State University, spoke after an inspection of the fields at the Thompson Farm.

Do Mother's Habits Affect Baby?

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Time was when there were many superstitions about the dangers of marking a baby by accidents and frights that happened to a mother while she carried her child.

Much of this old folklore has long been proven to have no foundation. And yet while it is certainly nonsense to think that a mother frightened by a huge fish might produce a child with scales, nevertheless there is beginning to grow up a body of scientific data that shows that babies even deep in the mother's womb are not entirely oblivious to what affects her.

Chemical substances in solution do pass from mother to child. This is of course the way the child is nourished. We know that some harmful substances can get from mother to child, too.

A mother who is a morphine addict is quite apt to give birth to a child with a morphine addiction. This is something we can measure and determine for certain.

DOES SMOKING and drinking alcohol affect an unborn baby? We really do not know for sure. There is some pretty good evidence that both nicotine and alcohol do get across the placenta and into the infant's circulation.

Whether or not they do harm we really do not know. It would certainly be my advice that both smoking and drinking be either eliminated or reduced to the barest minimum during pregnancy. Why take a chance?

How about a mother's emotions during pregnancy? Here again our real information is skimpy. But we do know that strong emotional states produce measurable changes in the body's chemical balance.

It doesn't seem too unreasonable to think that some of these emotionally produced chemicals find their way into the womb. It has been demonstrated that there is an increase in fetal movements after prolonged and severe emotional upsets in the mother.

One investigator even went further and thought he could find a relation between higher activity in infants born of mothers whose pregnancy was accompanied by many emotional storms than in more placid mothers-to-be.

FATIGUE, too, may possibly have an effect on babies still in their mothers' womb. Certainly fatigue does produce chemical changes in the mother's blood.

Fetal movements decrease when a mother becomes exhausted. But again whether or not this has any long time effect on the baby is a matter for speculation.

We are certainly a long way from the old superstition that a pregnant woman should sit quietly and fill her mind with beautiful thoughts in order to produce a beautiful child.

However, let's not entirely ignore the fact that the baby growing and developing in his mother's womb does so in the environment she produces for him.

This environment consists of the quiet, dark safe recesses of her body and is supplied with the raw material for growth from her body and her food. But it is conceivable that that environment also includes the chemical results of her way of life.

Beaver Local Orders Tests For Drivers

A policy requiring all school bus drivers to be examined by the County Board of Health was adopted by the Beaver Local Board of Education Monday night.

A request from some Sprucevale residents that bus transportation be provided for their children was taken under advisement.

The board also delayed action on formally accepting transfer of two small sections of Madison Township to the district pending further study. The transfer was made by the Southern Local Board of Education but is subject to Beaver Local's approval.

A letter was received from the County Board of Education notifying the Beaver Local board of the transfer.

The board also authorized a preschool physical fitness program for all boys in Beaver Local schools. The program will be held in the evenings at the high school.

It approved the leasing of the frame Elkton School to the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council for a classroom, and also started action to sell the abandoned frame building at West Point.

The board voted to apply for federal funds under the National Defense Act to purchase science equipment for the junior high and high schools.

The board renewed the contracts of two teachers, William Patton at the public school and Alta Mercer at Calcutta, employed Mrs. Donna Tweed Ferguson as a teacher at the public school and Mrs. Linda Costanzo at the high school. Mrs. Costanzo is returning from a leave of absence.

It accepted the resignation of Mrs. Catherine Campbell as a teacher at Rogers School and named Gertrude Rosengreen to succeed her. The next meeting will be Aug. 8.

5 Nabbed With Radar Due Speeding Hearings

SALINEVILLE — Five motorists, including three women, cited for speeding by Patrolman Tom Wilson using a new radar unit, are due for hearings Saturday night before Mayor Kenneth Leishman.

Evelyn V. Dickinson, 1703 Buckeye Ave., and Irene C. Dent, 927 Commerce St., both of Wellsville, Naomi L. Gunderson of R. D. 3 and Bert Walker of Lisbon R. D. 1 were cited Sunday night on E. Main St. Harold L. Hull of Mechanicstown R. D. 1 was cited on Route 39 at the west end of the village.

Autry C. Swick of Hammondsville R. D. 1 also is to appear Saturday night on a reckless driving charge filed after he lost control of his pickup truck Sunday night on Route 39 near the eastern village limits.

State Group Will Air Chester Fund Request

An application for federal funds to aid in the construction of a sewage collection and treatment plant at Chester is expected to be among those considered today by the West Virginia Water Resources Commission.

The commission will meet in Charleston to decide which cities and towns will share in the $825,000 in federal money being made available this year. Chester's application was filed sometime ago.

Commission Director Bern Wright said he will recommend that timetables be set up which will have to be followed by those obtaining the aid. The commission always is confronted with the slowness of work aimed at ending the pollution of rivers and streams.

Vacation Ruling Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State employes may accumulate vacation leave, and in case of death, their heirs are given the monetary value of the unused vacation time. This is the ruling made Monday by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. The opinion was requested by James T. Welsh, Ohio personnel director.

'Sliphorn' Offers Solitude

By SID MOODY

NEW YORK (AP)—You want a hobby uncluttered with people? Want to get away from it all?

Take up the jazz trombone. You'll learn just what true loneliness can be.

Lift the slippery slide from its velveteen case. Tap in the mouthpiece. Purse your lips and watch 'em run—the wife, the kids, and then (ah, treachery) the dog. Vamoosed, all.

Then blow to your heart's content. Until the neighbor calls—the tone deaf lout.

The trombone—once called the sackbut—is an old friend which came long before the wife, kids or dog. They have all since posed the same question put to mountain climbers—why?

Why, indeed. Because after a long, worrisome day there's no greater pinnacle of pleasure than to point the sackbut ceilingward and blast out the soul-clearing notes of the first downhill slide to "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen."

That's how to get even with the world.

My wife, deferring in the first blush of young love, took the trombone as a part—although perhaps not the best—of the complete ME.

Customarily I play solo along with such titans of trombonia as Jack Teagarden and Miff Mole. They're on records. I'm on the coffee table alongside the speaker. Hi was never fi-er.

But misery loves company. So we have a band. "We" are mostly journalists of assorted stripe whose paths have crossed in city rooms hither and yon. We're called, if you haven't heard, the "Fourth Estate Sweet Melodies Jazz Band."

We play five or six times a year. Never the same place twice. We're no fools. Neither are our hosts.

There's one exception. Every summer we charter a mule drawn barge for an afternoon's cruise up a restored canal near New Hope, Pa. Friends, music lovers and wives—who don't fit either category for this trip — haul aboard a cargo of beer and pretzels and the mule, his ears twitching in disbelief, starts plodding to "Up a Lazy River."

Toulouse, Bordeaux, Nice, Nantes and Strasbourg in France are cities about the sizes of Richmond, Va., Akron, Ohio, or Omaha, Neb.

Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936) was the first Englishman to receive a Nobel Prize for literature.

Fined For Contempt

LISBON — Keith O'Hanlon, 36, of Ashtabula R. D. 2 was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail and fined $1,000 Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin after he was found guilty of contempt of court when he failed to obey an order for support of his child. He was cited on charges filed by his former wife.

A hailstone weighing 1½ pounds fell on Potter, Neb., in 1928.

Beaver Local Orders Tests For Drivers

A policy requiring all school bus drivers to be examined by the County Board of Health was adopted by the Beaver Local Board of Education Monday night.

A request from some Sprucevale residents that bus transportation be provided for their children was taken under advisement.

The board also delayed action on formally accepting transfer of two small sections of Madison Township to the district pending further study. The transfer was made by the Southern Local Board of Education but is subject to Beaver Local's approval.

A letter was received from the County Board of Education notifying the Beaver Local board of the transfer.

The board also authorized a preschool physical fitness program for all boys in Beaver Local schools. The program will be held in the evenings at the high school.

It approved the leasing of the frame Elkton School to the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council for a classroom, and also started action to sell the abandoned frame building at West Point.

The board voted to apply for federal funds under the National Defense Act to purchase science equipment for the junior high and high schools.

The board renewed the contracts of two teachers, William Patton at the public school and Alta Mercer at Calcutta, employed Mrs. Donna Tweed Ferguson as a teacher at the public school and Mrs. Linda Costanzo at the high school. Mrs. Costanzo is returning from a leave of absence.

It accepted the resignation of Mrs. Catherine Campbell as a teacher at Rogers School and named Gertrude Rosengreen to succeed her. The next meeting will be Aug. 8.

5 Nabbed With Radar Due Speeding Hearings

SALINEVILLE — Five motorists, including three women, cited for speeding by Patrolman Tom Wilson using a new radar unit, are due for hearings Saturday night before Mayor Kenneth Leishman.

Evelyn V. Dickinson, 1703 Buckeye Ave., and Irene C. Dent, 927 Commerce St., both of Wellsville, Naomi L. Gunderson of R. D. 3 and Bert Walker of Lisbon R. D. 1 were cited Sunday night on E. Main St. Harold L. Hull of Mechanicstown R. D. 1 was cited on Route 39 at the west end of the village.

Autry C. Swick of Hammondsville R. D. 1 also is to appear Saturday night on a reckless driving charge filed after he lost control of his pickup truck Sunday night on Route 39 near the eastern village limits.

State Group Will Air Chester Fund Request

An application for federal funds to aid in the construction of a sewage collection and treatment plant at Chester is expected to be among those considered today by the West Virginia Water Resources Commission.

The commission will meet in Charleston to decide which cities and towns will share in the $825,000 in federal money being made available this year. Chester's application was filed sometime ago.

Commission Director Bern Wright said he will recommend that timetables be set up which will have to be followed by those obtaining the aid. The commission always is confronted with the slowness of work aimed at ending the pollution of rivers and streams.

Vacation Ruling Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State employes may accumulate vacation leave, and in case of death, their heirs are given the monetary value of the unused vacation time. This is the ruling made Monday by Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. The opinion was requested by James T. Welsh, Ohio personnel director.

'Sliphorn' Offers Solitude

By SID MOODY

NEW YORK (AP)—You want a hobby uncluttered with people? Want to get away from it all?

Take up the jazz trombone. You'll learn just what true loneliness can be.

Lift the slippery slide from its velveteen case. Tap in the mouthpiece. Purse your lips and watch 'em run—the wife, the kids, and then (ah, treachery) the dog. Vamoosed, all.

Then blow to your heart's content. Until the neighbor calls—the tone deaf lout.

The trombone—once called the sackbut—is an old friend which came long before the wife, kids or dog. They have all since posed the same question put to mountain climbers—why?

Why, indeed. Because after a long, worrisome day there's no greater pinnacle of pleasure than to point the sackbut ceilingward and blast out the soul-clearing notes of the first downhill slide to "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen."

That's how to get even with the world.

My wife, deferring in the first blush of young love, took the trombone as a part—although perhaps not the best—of the complete ME.

Customarily I play solo along with such titans of trombonia as Jack Teagarden and Miff Mole. They're on records. I'm on the coffee table alongside the speaker. Hi was never fi-er.

But misery loves company. So we have a band. "We" are mostly journalists of assorted stripe whose paths have crossed in city rooms hither and yon. We're called, if you haven't heard, the "Fourth Estate Sweet Melodies Jazz Band."

We play five or six times a year. Never the same place twice. We're no fools. Neither are our hosts.

There's one exception. Every summer we charter a mule drawn barge for an afternoon's cruise up a restored canal near New Hope, Pa. Friends, music lovers and wives—who don't fit either category for this trip — haul aboard a cargo of beer and pretzels and the mule, his ears twitching in disbelief, starts plodding to "Up a Lazy River."

Toulouse, Bordeaux, Nice, Nantes and Strasbourg in France are cities about the sizes of Richmond, Va., Akron, Ohio, or Omaha, Neb.

Rudyard Kipling (1865-1936) was the first Englishman to receive a Nobel Prize for literature.

Fined For Contempt

LISBON — Keith O'Hanlon, 36, of Ashtabula R. D. 2 was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail and fined $1,000 Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin after he was found guilty of contempt of court when he failed to obey an order for support of his child. He was cited on charges filed by his former wife.

A hailstone weighing 1½ pounds fell on Potter, Neb., in 1928.

Miss Jean Ross Of Ohio View Becomes Altoona Man's Bride

Miss Jean Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ross of Ohio View, became the bride of William W. Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Waite of Altoona, Friday in the chapel of Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, where both were June graduates.

Dr. William J. MacLeod, professor of philosophy at the college, officiated at the double-ring rites before an altar decorated with bouquets of yellow and white flowers and palms.

Warren Barryman, a music instructor at the school, presented traditional melodies on the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a ballerina-length frock of silk taffeta. The fitted bodice was accented by a sweetheart neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. A small bow at the back of the waistline was the only adornment on the bouffant skirt.

A Dior bow gathered her short, circular veil of silk illusion.

White roses surrounded by small white pompons topped the white Bible she carried. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Patricia Tinder of Pittsburgh, a sorority sister, was maid of honor. Her street-length gown was of soft yellow silk organza. The full skirt was accented with three rows of tiny pink and blue blossoms around the hemline. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses surrounded by white pompons. Her headpiece was a matching Dior bow.

Howard Cailor of Youngstown, the bridegroom's fraternity brother, was best man. David Beckman of Bellevue, Ohio, and William Hicks of Rochester, N. Y., also fraternity brothers, ushered.

The bride's parents entertained at a supper in the Coach House in Berea following the ceremony.

The wedding cake centered the bridal table. Bouquets surrounded the cake.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the couple will reside in Cleveland.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Beaver Area High School and was a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority at Baldwin-Wallace. She has accepted a position as second grade teacher in the Lakewood, Ohio, schools.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Altoona High School and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity at Baldwin-Wallace. He is employed by the Procter & Gamble Co. in Cleveland.

14 Cattle, Pony Killed When Hit By Lightning

EAST PRAIRIE, Mo. (AP)—Noah Heath, at the urgings of his sons, set out this week to find their missing shetland pony on his farm near East Prairie.

The pony and 14 head of choice beef steers were found dead near a tree—killed by a lightning bolt.

Heath, a prominent banker and land owner in southeast Missouri, estimated the loss at $2,600. Old timers couldn't recall another case of 15 animals in one spot killed by lightning.

"There wasn't a single mark on the tree," Heath said.

President Thomas W. Wilson was better known by his middle name — Woodrow.

14 Cattle, Pony Killed When Hit By Lightning

EAST PRAIRIE, Mo. (AP)—Noah Heath, at the urgings of his sons, set out this week to find their missing shetland pony on his farm near East Prairie.

The pony and 14 head of choice beef steers were found dead near a tree—killed by a lightning bolt.

Heath, a prominent banker and land owner in southeast Missouri, estimated the loss at $2,600. Old timers couldn't recall another case of 15 animals in one spot killed by lightning.

"There wasn't a single mark on the tree," Heath said.

President Thomas W. Wilson was better known by his middle name — Woodrow.

'Avoid The Gutters'

Ike Asks GOP Candidates To Hit 'Great Middle Road'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Republican candidates to follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Eisenhower held forth to Republican office-seekers at a party breakfast the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

"We ought to use it as a flaming battle flag on the highest mast the Republican party can put up and fight for it always," Eisenhower said.

This approach to government is difficult to defend, the President added, and requires intelligent explanation or will be attacked from both flanks.

"But that is exactly what we have to do," he said.

The Republican party possesses great strength, however, Eisenhower said, "because so many people want to go in exactly that direction."

Eisenhower addressed a breakfast meeting of his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices. About 600 attended the affair, in the Morrison Hotel.

It was Eisenhower's last scheduled appearance in this convention city before heading with Mrs. Eisenhower for Denver, where he will spend the rest of the week.

"In the operation of any great human organism," Eisenhower told his fellow Republicans, "constructive plans and programs must be developed in what we call the great middle road."

The President said most people instinctively "grow to like the paved highway stretching before them and they understand that here is where human progress is achieved."

He said "we are truly a middle of the road party." By that, he added, "I don't mean walking just a wishy-washy path—not at all."

Eisenhower said there are those who insist on "marching in the gutters, the extremes of the right and left," but he declared that they "in the long run are always defeated."

He set forth this goal: "You must find the broad highway and you must ignore the gutters."

In the Republican party, he said, he found few, if any, "who are in the gutters."

Congo Viewed As U.N. Trust

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Belgian government believes this newly independent Congo republic should become a United Nations trust territory, highly placed Belgian sources said today.

"Only a strong United Nations administration can save this country from chaos and disaster," a Belgian official said.

He said it was the view of the Belgian government that there is no other solution to the strife-torn former Belgian colony but to turn it over entirely to the U.N.

A Belgian Embassy spokesman stressed that Belgium will continue to view the Congolese government as virtually nonexistent.

The return of Belgian technicians to help stave off the Congo's economic collapse is impossible at this time the spokesman said. He was commenting on Congolese Finance Minister Pascal Nkanyi's appeal to Belgians to return to their posts.

JP Seen As 'Ultimate' By Nixon When Young

CHICAGO (AP) — When Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a young man back in Whittier, Calif., he told his father he'd like to become a lawyer.

Recounting the story to the Ohio delegation, Nixon said his father took him to see Frank Swain, justice of the peace in Whittier.

After meeting and talking with Swain, Nixon said he thought:

"If I could only be a justice of the peace. That would be the ultimate."

Freight Train Derails, Blocks Pennsy Tracks

CLEVELAND (AP)—A freight train derailment blocked the main line of the New York Central Railroad early today near the Ohio - Pennsylvania line.

Twenty-four cars of a 90-car eastbound freight went off the rails at Lake City, Pa. The train was en route from Chicago to New York.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make the task of cleaning my hands easier after a job of painting?

A. Rubber gloves, of course, provide the best answer. But if you find these too uncomfortable, rub your hands well with linseed oil before you start your painting, then scrape your fingernails over a cake of soap. The wash-up later will be quicker and easier..

Q. How can I keep raisins, dates, and figs from sticking to the grinder when running them through?

A. They will not stick if lemon juice is squeezed into the grinder before the fruit is run through it.

Q. How can I sweeten the grounds around house plants?

A. By working some coffee grounds into the earth frequently.

Out Of The Air

Herb Shriner Shows The Scouts

It seems fitting and proper that Herb Shriner, he being a throwback to an old, almost vanished tradition in American humor, should be selected to act as host - narrator of the coming telecast of the Jubilee Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

Marie Torre

Shriner, instead of any of those "sick" comedy rages, we mean! Wouldn't it be sacrilegious, not to mention ludicrous, to cast a Mort Sahl or a Shelley Berman against the chaste, wholesome, hygienic institution of the Boy Scouts of America?

-:-

YES, SIR, Shriner is good for the Boy Scouts, and the Boy Scouts, we hear, are good for Shriner.

This, at least, is what we hear from Shriner.

"You might say," remarked the Last of the Well Comedians (his own description), "that the Boy Scout show is part of my new master plan — Herb Shriner's Big Picture — or whatever a fellow can call a design for the future."

"A regular Boy Scout show with Shriner?" we asked, our incredulity showing.

"Oh, no," he rejoined. "When I call the Boy Scout show a part of my new master plan — and, gee, I hate the term — I mean it's the kind of 'special' I would like to do more of on TV — like four or five a year. I go for the 'special' that deals with real people, real situations, as opposed to contrived entertainment.

"YOU SEE," he continued, "when a guy doesn't have a regular television show — and I haven't had since 'Two for the Money' went off four years ago — he can look for a panel show, or a situation comedy show, or he can do something new and different and satisfying, not necessarily in TV.

"Well, I'm looking for neither a panel show nor a situation comedy. As a matter of fact, I've ignored a few. I've probably missed a couple of commercial opportunities in recent times, but that's all right.

"The trouble with this world is everybody thinks that if you're not on TV, you're washed up. This is an awful fallacy. There's lots of show business outside of TV.

"You take the concert business. That's really growing. Do you know that last year the concert business attracted more people than baseball?"

-:-

SHRINER has come to know well the nation's concert halls. He's been preoccupied most of this year with a concert program called "Pops Americana," which is full of folk songs, sea chanties and square dances.

When he resumes the tour in October he'll take a 47-piece orchestra with him.

"The Madison Avenue guys don't realize there is such a thing as wholesome entertainment that doesn't consist of Frank Sinatra or Dean Martin. There is more to be done in television than having the same eight guys appearing on each other's shows.

"I've been around more than anybody else in the state fairs and night clubs and people are tired of that sort of thing. Violence and laugh tracks, too."

The traveling Hoosier admits there is one particular TV format that could change his mind about weekly TV. This is an idea tentatively called "Herb Shriner Meets the People."

-:-

"FOR THIS," he says, "I'd go to Cape Hatteras and interview an old ship wrecker, for instance, or go to the back hills of Kentucky for a talk with a hillbilly, to Grandma Moses' house on her 100th birthday, to Carl Sandburg's back porch.

"Nobody with a sense of humor has ever tried to talk to people like that."

On Saturday, Shriner will be free to flex his comedy muscles before the 55,000 lads at the Boy Scouts event in Colorado Springs, Colo. (NBC).

"Well, this can't run out hilarious exactly," he remarked, "but I guarantee it'll be interesting. You'll hear 200 kids playing the harmonica with me, and you'll see demonstrations of falconry, rodeo, forest preserve, something called Swaparama, in which the kids swap all kinds of things from garter snakes to broken jack knives.

"Well, I'm going to walk through this tremendous confusion, which is going to be organized."

THE DECISION of the Motion Picture Assn. to drop its sponsorship of the annaul Academy Awards show on television seems to sit well with movie exhibitors.

The head of a film exhibitors' group in Los Angeles was quoted as saying:

"Last time, we worked hard to promote the TV show in expectation of getting advertising value out of some fresh pictures to compensate for the box office beating we took that night.

"We counted on the show's plugging new films, but it wasn't done. Exhibitors won't make the same mistake again, whether the sponsor is the industry or some auto company."

'Avoid The Gutters'

Ike Asks GOP Candidates To Hit 'Great Middle Road'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Republican candidates to follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Eisenhower held forth to Republican office-seekers at a party breakfast the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

"We ought to use it as a flaming battle flag on the highest mast the Republican party can put up and fight for it always," Eisenhower said.

This approach to government is difficult to defend, the President added, and requires intelligent explanation or will be attacked from both flanks.

"But that is exactly what we have to do," he said.

The Republican party possesses great strength, however, Eisenhower said, "because so many people want to go in exactly that direction."

Eisenhower addressed a breakfast meeting of his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices. About 600 attended the affair, in the Morrison Hotel.

It was Eisenhower's last scheduled appearance in this convention city before heading with Mrs. Eisenhower for Denver, where he will spend the rest of the week.

"In the operation of any great human organism," Eisenhower told his fellow Republicans, "constructive plans and programs must be developed in what we call the great middle road."

The President said most people instinctively "grow to like the paved highway stretching before them and they understand that here is where human progress is achieved."

He said "we are truly a middle of the road party." By that, he added, "I don't mean walking just a wishy-washy path—not at all."

Eisenhower said there are those who insist on "marching in the gutters, the extremes of the right and left," but he declared that they "in the long run are always defeated."

He set forth this goal: "You must find the broad highway and you must ignore the gutters."

In the Republican party, he said, he found few, if any, "who are in the gutters."

Congo Viewed As U.N. Trust

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Belgian government believes this newly independent Congo republic should become a United Nations trust territory, highly placed Belgian sources said today.

"Only a strong United Nations administration can save this country from chaos and disaster," a Belgian official said.

He said it was the view of the Belgian government that there is no other solution to the strife-torn former Belgian colony but to turn it over entirely to the U.N.

A Belgian Embassy spokesman stressed that Belgium will continue to view the Congolese government as virtually nonexistent.

The return of Belgian technicians to help stave off the Congo's economic collapse is impossible at this time the spokesman said. He was commenting on Congolese Finance Minister Pascal Nkanyi's appeal to Belgians to return to their posts.

JP Seen As 'Ultimate' By Nixon When Young

CHICAGO (AP) — When Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a young man back in Whittier, Calif., he told his father he'd like to become a lawyer.

Recounting the story to the Ohio delegation, Nixon said his father took him to see Frank Swain, justice of the peace in Whittier.

After meeting and talking with Swain, Nixon said he thought:

"If I could only be a justice of the peace. That would be the ultimate."

Herb Shriner Shows The Scouts

It seems fitting and proper that Herb Shriner, he being a throwback to an old, almost vanished tradition in American humor, should be selected to act as host - narrator of the coming telecast of the Jubilee Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

Marie Torre

Shriner, instead of any of those "sick" comedy rages, we mean! Wouldn't it be sacrilegious, not to mention ludicrous, to cast a Mort Sahl or a Shelley Berman against the chaste, wholesome, hygienic institution of the Boy Scouts of America?

-:-

YES, SIR, Shriner is good for the Boy Scouts, and the Boy Scouts, we hear, are good for Shriner.

This, at least, is what we hear from Shriner.

"You might say," remarked the Last of the Well Comedians (his own description), "that the Boy Scout show is part of my new master plan — Herb Shriner's Big Picture — or whatever a fellow can call a design for the future."

"A regular Boy Scout show with Shriner?" we asked, our incredulity showing.

"Oh, no," he rejoined. "When I call the Boy Scout show a part of my new master plan — and, gee, I hate the term — I mean it's the kind of 'special' I would like to do more of on TV — like four or five a year. I go for the 'special' that deals with real people, real situations, as opposed to contrived entertainment.

-:-

"YOU SEE," he continued, "when a guy doesn't have a regular television show — and I haven't had since 'Two for the Money' went off four years ago — he can look for a panel show, or a situation comedy show, or he can do something new and different and satisfying, not necessarily in TV.

"Well, I'm looking for neither a panel show nor a situation comedy. As a matter of fact, I've ignored a few. I've probably missed a couple of commercial opportunities in recent times, but that's all right.

"The trouble with this world is everybody thinks that if you're not on TV, you're washed up. This is an awful fallacy. There's lots of show business outside of TV.

"You take the concert business. That's really growing. Do you know that last year the concert business attracted more people than baseball?"

-:-

SHRINER has come to know well the nation's concert halls. He's been preoccupied most of this year with a concert program called "Pops Americana," which is full of folk songs, sea chanties and square dances.

When he resumes the tour in October he'll take a 47-piece orchestra with him.

"The Madison Avenue guys don't realize there is such a thing as wholesome entertainment that doesn't consist of Frank Sinatra or Dean Martin. There is more to be done in television than having the same eight guys appearing on each other's shows.

"I've been around more than anybody else in the state fairs and night clubs and people are tired of that sort of thing. Violence and laugh tracks, too."

The traveling Hoosier admits there is one particular TV format that could change his mind about weekly TV. This is an idea tentatively called "Herb Shriner Meets the People."

-:-

"FOR THIS," he says, "I'd go to Cape Hatteras and interview an old ship wrecker, for instance, or go to the back hills of Kentucky for a talk with a hillbilly, to Grandma Moses' house on her 100th birthday, to Carl Sandburg's back porch.

"Nobody with a sense of humor has ever tried to talk to people like that."

On Saturday, Shriner will be free to flex his comedy muscles before the 55,000 lads at the Boy Scouts event in Colorado Springs, Colo. (NBC).

"Well, this can't run out hilarious exactly," he remarked, "but I guarantee it'll be interesting. You'll hear 200 kids playing the harmonica with me, and you'll see demonstrations of falconry, rodeo, forest preserve, something called Swaparama, in which the kids swap all kinds of things from garter snakes to broken jack knives.

"Well, I'm going to walk through this tremendous confusion, which is going to be organized."

-:-

THE DECISION of the Motion Picture Assn. to drop its sponsorship of the annaul Academy Awards show on television seems to sit well with movie exhibitors.

The head of a film exhibitors' group in Los Angeles was quoted as saying:

"Last time, we worked hard to promote the TV show in expectation of getting advertising value out of some fresh pictures to compensate for the box office beating we took that night.

"We counted on the show's plugging new films, but it wasn't done. Exhibitors won't make the same mistake again, whether the sponsor is the industry or some auto company."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make the task of cleaning my hands easier after a job of painting?

A. Rubber gloves, of course, provide the best answer. But if you find these too uncomfortable, rub your hands well with linseed oil before you start your painting, then scrape your fingernails over a cake of soap. The wash-up later will be quicker and easier.

Q. How can I keep raisins, dates, and figs from sticking to the grinder when running them through?

A. They will not stick if lemon juice is squeezed into the grinder before the fruit is run through it.

Q. How can I sweeten the grounds around house plants?

A. By working some coffee grounds into the earth frequently.

Next Year's Officers Named During Reunion Of Madisons

Approximately 50 attended the annual Madison reunion Sunday at Guilford Lake.

Business was conducted by Bob Moore, president, at which time Wayne Madison of Chester was elected president and Mrs. Eileen Madison secretary for 1961.

Charles Madison of Alliance, 87, was the oldest guest present and Connie Frances Madison, 6-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Madison of Leetonia, the youngest. John Madison, stationed with the Navy in Tennessee, traveled the longest distance.

Guests were from Alliance, Salineville, Carrollton, Leetonia, Lisbon, Chester and Tennessee.

Games and a picnic dinner were highlights of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown and family of Wickliffe, Ohio, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mundy of W. Main St.

Miss Margaret M. Mulhearn of Pittsburgh spent the weekend here.

Edward Maher, stationed on the Independence at Norfolk, Va., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maher of High St.

Miss Rebecca McPherson and Miss Patricia Hayes of Wellsville R. D. 1 were Salineville visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hart, Mrs. Dorothy Leatherberry and children, Mrs. Mabel Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClellan left Saturday for a two-week vacation at Fernandina Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Rena Welch of E. Main St. moved this week to Ohio Ave., Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney and daughter, Marilyn, and nephew, Jackie Sweeney, were Alliance visitors Saturday.

Weak Dams Send New Flood Waters

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Water continued to pour today over a valley normally inhabited by 100,000 persons as earthen dams crumbled further below Lake Rinihue in southern Chile.

Heavy rainstorms, strong winds and earth tremors added to the plight of the thousands of refugees from Valdivia, in the heart of the valley, a city devastated by earthquakes in May and now almost certain to be destroyed by flood waters from the swollen lake 50 miles upstream.

Several towns in the valley already were under water. Only the tops of houses were visible from the air.

Four fishermen were reported drowned when their boat overturned in the rampaging torrent.

Army engineers Tuesday evacuated the last of some 40,000 persons from Valdivia and took them to temporary quarters on high ground.

A River By Any Other Name Would Be As Wet

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. (AP)—What river flows through Wyoming's scenic Wind River Canyon?

Don't automatically say "Wind River." You may be wrong.

Somewhere the Wind River changes its name to the Big Horn River and there's a difference of opinion where the change comes. But everyone agrees that the canyon is the "Wind River Canyon."

The Wyoming State Engineer's office has chosen the confluence of the Wind and Little Wind rivers near Riverton as the birthplace of the Big Horn River. Therefore, under that interpretation it is the Big Horn River which flows through the Wind River Canyon.

On the other hand, the U. S. Geological Survey contends that the stream's name is changed to the Big Horn River at the mouth of the Wind River Canyon — and the Wind River actually flows through the canyon.

Workers End African Riots

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Long lines of Africans streamed back to work today, indicating a return to normal after three days of rioting in which at least nine Negroes were killed and 118 injured.

Eighty per cent of the labor force was back at work in the city's 450 factories after a work boycott that accompanied the violence. The rest of the workers were expected on the job later.

Military cordons protected all roads to the industrial sites from interference by diehard rioters.

Police confirmed that their gunfire killed five of the slain nine Africans. The police said they fired in self-defense. At least one of the dead was battered to death by rioters enforcing the work boycott.

The rioting was confined to the city's African sectors, which more than 2,000 European and African soldiers and police sealed off to protect the city's 45,000 whites.

Soldiers established a number of tactical strong points throughout the violence areas. The rioters also lost considerable of their zeal after they drank up all the looted beer and wine that helped fuel their orgy of violence and burning.

School Head Named

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Gordon G. Humbert will take over as superintendent of Canton schools Oct. 1. Humbert had been school superintendent in Lima since 1947.

Sample Of Writing Brings Arrest For Forgery Charges

Hand-writing samples analyzed at the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London led to the arrest of an East Liverpool man Tuesday afternoon on a charge he forged his ex-wife's signature to a $52 check sent to her through the mail from the Support Division of Juvenile Court at Lisbon.

Virgil W. Wright, 1839 Dresden Ave., was taken into custody by Patrolman K. H. Mooney at 4:45 p. m. on an affidavit signed by Capt. Robert H. Pyle alleging Wright forged the signature of his former wife, Mrs. Christina Gay Wright, of Mulberry St. and cashed the check June 26 at an East End market after obtaining the check.

Capt. Pyle explained the forged check was referred to the police department by the court. Samples of the hand-writing of Mrs. Wright, her former husband and a third individual were sent to the state laboratory at London. A report returned here said there was no similarity between the writing of Mrs. Wright and the other person and the alleged forgery, but Wright's writing matched it on 12 points.

That led to the filing of the charges. Wright is being held in jail awaiting arraignment before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he did "falsely make, forge and counterfeit" the signature of his former wife.

Dear friends,

It is not at all uncommon for individuals to make complete arrangements for their own funerals. We believe this indicates a gradual change in the public's attitude.

In the minds of many, there is nothing dreadful about a departure which is on the schedule of every life. And we believe that modern methods now practiced in our profession have done much toward creating this change of attitude.

Respectfully,

Next Year's Officers Named During Reunion Of Madisons

Approximately 50 attended the annual Madison reunion Sunday at Guilford Lake.

Business was conducted by Bob Moore, president, at which time Wayne Madison of Chester was elected president and Mrs. Eileen Madison secretary for 1961.

Charles Madison of Alliance, 87, was the oldest guest present and Connie Frances Madison, 6-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Madison of Leetonia, the youngest. John Madison, stationed with the Navy in Tennessee, traveled the longest distance.

Guests were from Alliance, Salineville, Carrollton, Leetonia, Lisbon, Chester and Tennessee.

Games and a picnic dinner were highlights of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown and family of Wickliffe, Ohio, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mundy of W. Main St.

Miss Margaret M. Mulhearn of Pittsburgh spent the weekend here.

Edward Maher, stationed on the Independence at Norfolk, Va., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maher of High St.

Miss Rebecca McPherson and Miss Patricia Hayes of Wellsville R. D. 1 were Salineville visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hart, Mrs. Dorothy Leatherberry and children, Mrs. Mabel Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McClellan left Saturday for a two-week vacation at Fernandina Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Rena Welch of E. Main St. moved this week to Ohio Ave., Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney and daughter, Marilyn, and nephew, Jackie Sweeney, were Alliance visitors Saturday.

Weak Dams Send New Flood Waters

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Water continued to pour today over a valley normally inhabited by 100,000 persons as earthen dams crumbled further below Lake Rinihue in southern Chile.

Heavy rainstorms, strong winds and earth tremors added to the plight of the thousands of refugees from Valdivia, in the heart of the valley, a city devastated by earthquakes in May and now almost certain to be destroyed by flood waters from the swollen lake 50 miles upstream.

Several towns in the valley already were under water. Only the tops of houses were visible from the air.

Four fishermen were reported drowned when their boat overturned in the rampaging torrent.

Army engineers Tuesday evacuated the last of some 40,000 persons from Valdivia and took them to temporary quarters on high ground.

A River By Any Other Name Would Be As Wet

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo. (AP)—What river flows through Wyoming's scenic Wind River Canyon?

Don't automatically say "Wind River." You may be wrong.

Somewhere the Wind River changes its name to the Big Horn River and there's a difference of opinion where the change comes. But everyone agrees that the canyon is the "Wind River Canyon."

The Wyoming State Engineer's office has chosen the confluence of the Wind and Little Wind rivers near Riverton as the birthplace of the Big Horn River. Therefore, under that interpretation it is the Big Horn River which flows through the Wind River Canyon.

On the other hand, the U. S. Geological Survey contends that the stream's name is changed to the Big Horn River at the mouth of the Wind River Canyon — and the Wind River actually flows through the canyon.

Workers End African Riots

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—Long lines of Africans streamed back to work today, indicating a return to normal after three days of rioting in which at least nine Negroes were killed and 118 injured.

Eighty per cent of the labor force was back at work in the city's 450 factories after a work boycott that accompanied the violence. The rest of the workers were expected on the job later.

Military cordons protected all roads to the industrial sites from interference by diehard rioters.

Police confirmed that their gunfire killed five of the slain nine Africans. The police said they fired in self-defense. At least one of the dead was battered to death by rioters enforcing the work boycott.

The rioting was confined to the city's African sectors, which more than 2,000 European and African soldiers and police sealed off to protect the city's 45,000 whites.

Soldiers established a number of tactical strong points throughout the violence areas. The rioters also lost considerable of their zeal after they drank up all the looted beer and wine that helped fuel their orgy of violence and burning.

Sample Of Writing Brings Arrest For Forgery Charges

Hand-writing samples analyzed at the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London led to the arrest of an East Liverpool man Tuesday afternoon on a charge he forged his ex-wife's signature to a $52 check sent to her through the mail from the Support Division of Juvenile Court at Lisbon.

Virgil W. Wright, 1839 Dresden Ave., was taken into custody by Patrolman K. H. Mooney at 4:45 p. m. on an affidavit signed by Capt. Robert H. Pyle alleging Wright forged the signature of his former wife, Mrs. Christina Gay Wright, of Mulberry St. and cashed the check June 26 at an East End market after obtaining the check.

Capt. Pyle explained the forged check was referred to the police department by the court. Samples of the hand-writing of Mrs. Wright, her former husband and a third individual were sent to the state laboratory at London. A report returned here said there was no similarity between the writing of Mrs. Wright and the other person and the alleged forgery, but Wright's writing matched it on 12 points.

That led to the filing of the charges. Wright is being held in jail awaiting arraignment before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge he did "falsely make, forge and counterfeit" the signature of his former wife.

Pirates Cling To Half-Game Lead By Outlasting Cards, 5-4

Face Saves Game To Give Law 13th

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The stubborn Pittsburgh Pirates aren't going to walk the plank for anybody. At least not as long as Vern Law can beat the St. Louis Cardinals practically blindfolded.

And not as long as Elroy Face can right a sinking ship.

The Cards rocked Law with a pair of two-run homers in the seventh inning Tuesday night, but he survived the inning with a 5-4 lead that turned out to be the final score as Pittsburgh stayed a half game ahead of Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

The victory was Law's 13th, making him the biggest winner in the majors.

But when the Cards acted up on reliever Fred Green in the eighth, it was up to Face to salt the victory with a double play ball and then a 1-2-3 job in the ninth for his 15th save among the Pirates' 55 triumphs.

Milwaukee, too, had it in the bullpen, as Ron Piche saved his seventh for the Braves who beat the Giants 3-1 at San Francisco. Carl Willey (5-4) was the winner on a five-hitter, but Piche had to wipe out the side in the ninth after the Giants rocked Willey with a homer and a single.

Cincinnati's Bob Purkey (10-6) pitched the only complete winning game in the league, a four-hitter that topped the Dodgers 4-1 at Los Angeles. Dick Farrell had to bail out Robin Roberts (7-9) to nail down the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3, come-from-behind victory at Chicago.

The Braves' victory, their sixth straight over the Giants and their 11th in their last 13 games, prevented Sad Sam Jones (12-10) from matching Law's win record. Jones struck out 11 and didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning.

Rookies Cliff Cook and Gordon Coleman, each playing only his second game for Cincinnati, drove in a run apiece and veteran Frank Robinson hit homer No. 19 for the other two as Cincinnati beat Johnny Podres (8-8). Cook had four singles in four trips.

Purkey, who has now beaten the Dodgers three times this season, gave up Duke Snider's 12th home run.

The Phillies, down 2-1 in the ninth, got a three-run homer from third-string catcher Clay Dalrymple off loser Glen Hobbie (9-13). But then Ron Santo opened the Cub half with a homer. Farrell came on, only to be greeted by a double by Ernie Banks, before getting the final three men. Banks earlier regained a share of the league home run lead when he hit No. 28 to match Aaron's total.

Racing Movie Shown Rotary

A movie highlighted by some of the great races of the noted thoroughbred Swaps was screened by Edward McCann, public relations director at Waterford Park, when the Rotary Club met Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Prepared by the Hollywood Turf Club, the half-hour color film re-created some of the great moments of the California horse at Hollywood Park where it gained racing fame under the piloting of Johnny Longden.

The film also illustrated how the track patrol at Hollywood Park photographs the races from all sides to be used by racing stewards in case a foul is claimed.

Another highlight of the film, entitled "The Home Stretch," was the match race of the two greatest horses of their time—War Admiral and Seabiscuit.

Other well-known thoroughbreds, including Nashua, Gallant Man and Round Table, were shown in action.

McCann was introduced by Dr. J. W. Schoolnic, program chairman. George Hargraves, president, presided. He announced a district governor's meeting is scheduled Sept. 13 and that the annual club picnic is tentatively set for Aug. 30.

Lead Yanks By One Game

White Sox Blast 21 Hits To Roll Over Bosox, 16-3

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can look it up. Nellie Fox homered and Jim Landis drove in four runs.

When the Chicago White Sox get this kind of hitting plus anticipated homers from their off-season power purchases — Gene Freese, Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso—who's going to beat the defending American League champions?

Not Boston, that's for sure.

The seventh-place Red Sox were the patsies again Tuesday night as Chicago slammed - slammed-slammed all over Fenway Park in a 16-3, 21-hit victory that retained their one-game lead over the New York Yankees.

The Yanks came alive in their own stadium, stopping Cleveland 6-1 behind winner Art Ditmar (8-7) and reliever Luis Arroyo. Mickey Mantle's 25th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, was the difference as the Yanks won for only the fifth time in their last 15.

Third-place Baltimore fell four games behind when ex-Yank Johnny Kucks beat the Orioles for Kansas City 2-1. Detroit moved into a fifth-place tie with Washington by defeating the Senators 5-3.

Fox' homer was his first of the season. The little left-hander, who hits for average but isn't doing it this year (.271), has only 28 homers in 14 years in the majors. Landis' RBI upped his season total to 31. Usually he doesn't quite average one every three games.

Sievers hit his 16th homer, Minoso his 11th and Freese his 9th.

That made it easy for Early Wynn to win his sixth in 13 decisions and the White Sox their 22nd in the last 31 games. Jerry Casale (2-9) was a loser for the ninth straight time.

Jimmy Piersall, Cleveland's problem player, scored the Indian run in the second inning. He beat out a bunt for a hit, was sacrificed to second and came home on Johnny Romano's single. After that it was all Yankees.

Mantle socked a 2-0 pitch by losing southpaw Dick Stigman (4-6) into the right field stands with Roger Maris, who had walked, on base.

Kucks of the Athletics hadn't pitched a winning complete game against Baltimore since 1956, his big year when he was 18-9 with the Yanks and picked up a key World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Another ex-Yank, Jerry Lumpe, doubled and scored the tying run in the seventh, then beat out an infield topper in the eighth to send across the winning run as the A's singled four straight times with two out to defeat Milt Pappas (8-8).

Detroit's Frank Lary (9-9) won his third straight after giving up the three Senator runs in the frist, although Clem Labine came to rescue with two on and none out in the ninth. Rocky Colavito hit his 21st homer in the fourth to make up two runs.

Wilson, Bridges Join Indians In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Catcher Bob Wilson and infielder Rocky Bridges, obtained by the Cleveland Indians Tuesday in a waiver transaction with the Detroit Tigers, joined the Tribe Tuesday night just an hour before the start of a four-game series with the New York Yankees.

Cleveland sent catcher Hank Foiles to the Tigers, also on waivers, and dropped pitcher Johnny Briggs.

"We're getting two hard-nosed ball players," said Frank Lane, Indians general manager. "Bridges may help as fill-in for Woodie Held and Wilson is a good, dependable receiver. This deal may give the team a psychological lift."

Bridges, 32, appeared in only 10 games with the Tigers this season, getting one hit in five times at bat. He was the regular Detroit shortstop last season, but when the Tigers obtained Chico Fernandez from the Philadelphia Phillies last winter Bridges was relegated to a utility role.

Wilson, 31, batted .216 in 45 games for the Tigers. One of his 29 hits was a home run and he knocked in 15 runs. He is a former University of Wisconsin football star.

The Indians purchased Foiles, also 31, from Pittsburgh on June 1 and he batted .307 in 30 games.

Briggs, 26, a right-hander used mainly in relief, won four games and lost two in 21 appearances for the Indians. He is expected to be claimed by Kansas City.

Mantle's 2-Run Homer Puts Yankees In Front To Stay For 6-1 Verdict

NEW YORK (AP) — The next time Jimmy Piersall gets into trouble, he will have to answer to Commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick, The Associated Press learned today, held a secret meeting Tuesday with Harvey Kuenn and discussed at length the Piersall situation with the Cleveland Indians' player representative. After being brought up to date on the entire Piersall matter, the commissioner told Kuenn he will take charge the next time the Cleveland center fielder gets out of line.

Frick earlier had talked by telephone to American League President Joe Cronin, who had given Piersall a "fatherly" talk Monday after slapping him with a $100 fine for being ejected — for the sixth time this season—from a game in Boston last Saturday.

Kuenn, sympathetic to Piersall, told Frick he believed the troubled star, who is enjoying one of his best seasons, is earnest about mending his ways and should be given a chance to prove it. Frick agreed.

Piersall was on his best behavior Tuesday night as the Indians were beaten 6-1 by the Yankees. He scored the Indians' only run, following his second inning bunt single, and was cheered by a crowd of 37,632 each time he came to bat. He got one hit in four times at bat and is batting .293. He is tied for the club lead with 50 runs batted in and is second in home runs with 13.

The only time Jimmy came even close to getting into an argument was in the sixth inning after Cleveland left fielder Tito Francona made a spectacular leaping catch of Hector Lopez' bid for a home run. Francona caught the ball while in the air and landed among the spectators, after tumbling over the low railing in left field.

Second base umpire Ed Runge ruled the catch legal but Piersall misunderstood the signal and came running in from center field to protest. He was intercepted by senior umpire Art Paparella, who said something to him and Jimmy trotted back to his position without another word.

The Yankees rolled to victory after Mickey Mantle put them ahead with a home run following a walk to Roger Maris in the sixth inning. Mantle hit his 25th homer of the season off Dick Stigman, who had blanked the Yankees for five innings and had nursed a 1-0 lead after Piersall scored in the second.

Stigman (4-6) was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and then the Yankees scored four runs in the home half of that inning off Johnny Klippstein and Bobby Locke. The Yankees finally were subdued by southpaw Jack Harshman, who finished the game.

The defeat was the third straight for the Indians in which they outhit the opposition. The Tribe collected nine hits, including three by John Temple, and the Yanks got seven.

Cleveland	100 000 000—1	9	0
New York	000 002 40x—6	7	1

Home run — New York, Mantle (25).

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Gene Freese, White Sox, drove in four runs, with homer, two doubles and two singles, going 5-for-6 in Chicago's 16-3 victory over Boston.

Pitching — Bob Purkey, Reds, four-hit Los Angeles to run record to 10-6 and beat Dodgers for third time this year, 4-1.

Two Browns Sidelined By Light Injuries

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Two players were sidelined with injuries Tuesday as the Cleveland Browns began two-a-day practice sessions.

Veteran flanker Ray Renfro suffered a dislocated finger and is expected to be out of action 10 days or more.

Sam Baker, kicking specialist and newcomer to the Browns, suffered a back strain while picking up 246-pound Dick Schafrath during the morning session on fundamentals. Baker has had some back trouble in the past.

Renfro was injured trying to grab a low pass from quarterback Len Dawson. It turned the little finger on his left hand and the bone came through the flesh. Eight stitches were required to close the wound.

Renfro is the only regular receiver back from the 1959 team. Billy Howton retired and Preston Carpenter was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

His absence may mean that Bobby Mitchell will be switched from running back to the flanker. A. D. Williams, obtained from Green Bay in a recent trade, also has possibilities as a flanker.

With Baker sidelined, the punting during the afternoon session was done by Clyde Washington, a rookie from Purdue. He kicked the ball high and far.

Eddie Hill, a guard from Miami University, left camp following a conference with Coach Paul Brown. After looking over the competition the Cincinnati player said he thought his chances of playing professional football might be better in Canada or the American Football League. The Browns will ask waivers on him.

Nashua, in three campaigns, won 22 races in 30 starts and earned $1,288,565.

Pirates Cling To Half-Game Lead By Outlasting Cards, 5-4

Face Saves Game To Give Law 13th

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

The stubborn Pittsburgh Pirates aren't going to walk the plank for anybody. At least not as long as Vern Law can beat the St. Louis Cardinals practically blindfolded.

And not as long as Elroy Face can right a sinking ship.

The Cards rocked Law with a pair of two-run homers in the seventh inning Tuesday night, but he survived the inning with a 5-4 lead that turned out to be the final score as Pittsburgh stayed a half game ahead of Milwaukee in the National League pennant race.

The victory was Law's 13th, making him the biggest winner in the majors.

But when the Cards acted up on reliever Fred Green in the eighth, it was up to Face to salt the victory with a double play ball and then a 1-2-3 job in the ninth for his 15th save among the Pirates' 55 triumphs.

Milwaukee, too, had it in the bullpen, as Ron Piche saved his seventh for the Braves who beat the Giants 3-1 at San Francisco. Carl Willey (5-4) was the winner on a five-hitter, but Piche had to wipe out the side in the ninth after the Giants rocked Willey with a homer and a single.

Cincinnati's Bob Purkey (10-6) pitched the only complete winning game in the league, a four-hitter that topped the Dodgers 4-1 at Los Angeles. Dick Farrell had to bail out Robin Roberts (7-9) to nail down the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3, come-from-behind victory at Chicago.

The Braves' victory, their sixth straight over the Giants and their 11th in their last 13 games, prevented Sad Sam Jones (12-10) from matching Law's win record. Jones struck out 11 and didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning.

Rookies Cliff Cook and Gordon Coleman, each playing only his second game for Cincinnati, drove in a run apiece and veteran Frank Robinson hit homer No. 19 for the other two as Cincinnati beat Johnny Podres (8-8). Cook had four singles in four trips.

Purkey, who has now beaten the Dodgers three times this season, gave up Duke Snider's 12th home run.

The Phillies, down 2-1 in the ninth, got a three-run homer from third-string catcher Clay Dalrymple off loser Glen Hobbie (9-13). But then Ron Santo opened the Cub half with a homer. Farrell came on, only to be greeted by a double by Ernie Banks, before getting the final three men. Banks earlier regained a share of the league home run lead when he hit No. 28 to match Aaron's total.

Racing Movie Shown Rotary

A movie highlighted by some of the great races of the noted thoroughbred Swaps was screened by Edward McCann, public relations director at Waterford Park, when the Rotary Club met Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Prepared by the Hollywood Turf Club, the half-hour color film recreated some of the great moments of the California horse at Hollywood Park where it gained racing fame under the piloting of Johnny Longden.

The film also illustrated how the track patrol at Hollywood Park photographs the races from all sides to be used by racing stewards in case a foul is claimed.

Another highlight of the film, entitled "The Home Stretch," was the match race of the two greatest horses of their time—War Admiral and Seabiscuit.

Other well-known thoroughbreds, including Nashua, Gallant Man and Round Table, were shown in action.

McCann was introduced by Dr. J. W. Schoolnic, program chairman. George Hargraves, president, presided. He announced a district governor's meeting is scheduled Sept. 13 and that the annual club picnic is tentatively set for Aug. 30.

Lead Yanks By One Game

White Sox Blast 21 Hits To Roll Over Bosox, 16-3

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can look it up. Nellie Fox homered and Jim Landis drove in four runs.

When the Chicago White Sox get this kind of hitting plus anticipated homers from their off-season power purchases — Gene Freese, Roy Sievers and Minnie Minoso—who's going to beat the defending American League champions?

Not Boston, that's for sure.

The seventh-place Red Sox were the patsies again Tuesday night as Chicago slammed - slammed-slammed all over Fenway Park in a 16-3, 21-hit victory that retained their one-game lead over the New York Yankees.

The Yanks came alive in their own stadium, stopping Cleveland 6-1 behind winner Art Ditmar (8-7) and reliever Luis Arroyo. Mickey Mantle's 25th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, was the difference as the Yanks won for only the fifth time in their last 15.

Third-place Baltimore fell four games behind when ex-Yank Johnny Kucks beat the Orioles for Kansas City 2-1. Detroit moved into a fifth-place tie with Washington by defeating the Senators 5-3.

Fox' homer was his first of the season. The little left-hander, who hits for average but isn't doing it this year (.271), has only 28 homers in 14 years in the majors. Landis' RBI upped his season total to 31. Usually he doesn't quite average one every three games.

Sievers hit his 16th homer, Minoso his 11th and Freese his 9th.

That made it easy for Early Wynn to win his sixth in 13 decisions and the White Sox their 22nd in the last 31 games. Jerry Casale (2-9) was a loser for the ninth straight time.

Jimmy Piersall, Cleveland's problem player, scored the Indian run in the second inning. He beat out a bunt for a hit, was sacrificed to second and came home on Johnny Romano's single. After that it was all Yankees.

Mantle socked a 2-0 pitch by losing southpaw Dick Stigman (4-6) into the right field stands with Roger Maris, who had walked, on base.

Kucks of the Athletics hadn't pitched a winning complete game against Baltimore since 1956, his big year when he was 18-9 with the Yanks and picked up a key World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Another ex-Yank, Jerry Lumpe, doubled and scored the tying run in the seventh, then beat out an infield topper in the eighth to send across the winning run as the A's singled four straight times with two out to defeat Milt Pappas (8-8).

Detroit's Frank Lary (9-9) won his third straight after giving up the three Senator runs in the frist, although Clem Labine came to rescue with two on and none out in the ninth. Rocky Colavito hit his 21st homer in the fourth to make up two runs.

Wilson, Bridges Join Indians In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Catcher Bob Wilson and infielder Rocky Bridges, obtained by the Cleveland Indians Tuesday in a waiver transaction with the Detroit Tigers, joined the Tribe Tuesday night just an hour before the start of a four-game series with the New York Yankees.

Cleveland sent catcher Hank Foiles to the Tigers, also on waivers, and dropped pitcher Johnny Briggs.

"We're getting two hard-nosed ball players," said Frank Lane, Indians general manager. "Bridges may help as fill-in for Woodie Held and Wilson is a good, dependable receiver. This deal may give the team a psychological lift."

Bridges, 32, appeared in only 10 games with the Tigers this season, getting one hit in five times at bat. He was the regular Detroit shortstop last season, but when the Tigers obtained Chico Fernandez from the Philadelphia Phillies last winter Bridges was relegated to a utility role.

Wilson, 31, batted .216 in 45 games for the Tigers. One of his 29 hits was a home run and he knocked in 15 runs. He is a former University of Wisconsin football star.

The Indians purchased Foiles, also 31, from Pittsburgh on June 1 and he batted .307 in 30 games.

Briggs, 26, a right-hander used mainly in relief, won four games and lost two in 21 appearances for the Indians. He is expected to be claimed by Kansas City.

Mantle's 2-Run Homer Puts Yankees In Front To Stay For 6-1 Verdict

NEW YORK (AP) — The next time Jimmy Piersall gets into trouble, he will have to answer to Commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick, The Associated Press learned today, held a secret meeting Tuesday with Harvey Kuenn and discussed at length the Piersall situation with the Cleveland Indians' player representative. After being brought up to date on the entire Piersall matter, the commissioner told Kuenn he will take charge the next time the Cleveland center fielder gets out of line.

Frick earlier had talked by telephone to American League President Joe Cronin, who had given Piersall a "fatherly" talk Monday after slapping him with a $100 fine for being ejected — for the sixth time this season—from a game in Boston last Saturday.

Kuenn, sympathetic to Piersall, told Frick he believed the troubled star, who is enjoying one of his best seasons, is earnest about mending his ways and should be given a chance to prove it. Frick agreed.

Piersall was on his best behavior Tuesday night as the Indians were beaten 6-1 by the Yankees. He scored the Indians' only run, following his second inning bunt single, and was cheered by a crowd of 37,632 each time he came to bat. He got one hit in four times at bat and is batting .293. He is tied for the club lead with 50 runs batted in and is second in home runs with 13.

The only time Jimmy came even close to getting into an argument was in the sixth inning after Cleveland left fielder Tito Francona made a spectacular leaping catch of Hector Lopez' bid for a home run. Francona caught the ball while in the air and landed among the spectators, after tumbling over the low railing in left field.

Second base umpire Ed Runge ruled the catch legal but Piersall misunderstood the signal and came running in from center field to protest. He was intercepted by senior umpire Art Paparella, who said something to him and Jimmy trotted back to his position without another word.

The Yankees rolled to victory after Mickey Mantle put them ahead with a home run following a walk to Roger Maris in the sixth inning. Mantle hit his 25th homer of the season off Dick Stigman, who had blanked the Yankees for five innings and had nursed a 1-0 lead after Piersall scored in the second.

Stigman (4-6) was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and then the Yankees scored four runs in the home half of that inning off Johnny Klippstein and Bobby Locke. The Yankees finally were subdued by southpaw Jack Harshman, who finished the game.

The defeat was the third straight for the Indians in which they outhit the opposition. The Tribe collected nine hits, including three by John Temple, and the Yanks got seven.

Two Browns Sidelined By Light Injuries

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Two players were sidelined with injuries Tuesday as the Cleveland Browns began two-a-day practice sessions.

Veteran flanker Ray Renfro suffered a dislocated finger and is expected to be out of action 10 days or more.

Sam Baker, kicking specialist and newcomer to the Browns, suffered a back strain while picking up 246-pound Dick Schafrath during the morning session on fundamentals. Baker has had some back trouble in the past.

Renfro was injured trying to grab a low pass from quarterback Len Dawson. It turned the little finger on his left hand and the bone came through the flesh. Eight stitches were required to close the wound.

Renfro is the only regular receiver back from the 1959 team. Billy Howton retired and Preston Carpenter was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Diving Victim Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Thomas J. Bernhardy, 28, who had been confined to a wheelchair for eight years as a result of a swimming accident, died Tuesday. He suffered a broken neck in July, 1952, when his head struck an inflated automobile tire in a 10-foot dive in the swimming pool of the Pine Ridge Country Club. He was assistant life guard at the pool.

Stymie was claimed for $2,500 as a 2-year-old but didn't win a stakes race until he was a 4-year-old. He eventually earned $913,485.

Giles Slaps Suspension Of 5 Days On Nuxhall

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League Chief Warren Giles has suspended pitcher Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Reds for five days—starting today—and fined him $250 for an altercation with umpire Ed Vargo at Chicago.

The Reds announced the penalty today.

Nuxhall, veteran southpaw from Hamilton, Ohio, was to accompany the team on its current West Coast tour, but won't be eligible to pitch until Sunday.

Nuxhall, had to be wrestled to the ground Monday in a game with Chicago's Cubs, to prevent him from getting at umpire Vargo.

Nuxhall had charged the umpire and nearly knocked him to the ground.

The incident came in the eighth inning when Chicago's George Altman beat out an infield hit. Nuxhall covered first, taking the throw from first sacker Gordon Coleman.

When Vargo ruled Altman safe, Nuxhall charged, knocking the umpire reeling. Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson ran out to restrain his pitcher, and Coleman teamed with Bill Martin to wrestle Nuxhall to the ground.

He was replaced by Jim Brosnan and Cincinnati won, 6-5, with two runs in the ninth.

Potters Savings And Knowles Win In Minor Loop Playoffs

Potters Savings & Loan wrapped up the National Division title in the Minor League and Knowles won its first in the best two of three games in the American Division Tuesday.

Potters Savings handed First National a 12-8 setback while Knowles edged Potters Bank, 4-3.

Potters Savings and Loan was paced by Jack Olash with a home run and single while Mark Miller and Mike Casey collected two hits each for First National.

These same two teams will begin a best two out of three game playoff for the National League title next week.

Dick Patterson scattered five hits to pick up the victory for Knowles. Bill Smith's double that advanced Mike McKenzie to third base and Dick Patterson's squeeze bunt resulted in the winning run for Knowles in the last of the sixth inning.

Dennis Klembara had two hits to pace the losers.

Cleveland Youth Wins Ohio Jaycee Golf Title

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old Cleveland Benedictine High School graduate wears the Ohio Jaycee golf crown today.

Tom Weiskopf, who enters Ohio State this fall, fired a 74 Tuesday to go with his opening round 65 for a 36-hole total of 139—a six-stroke margin over his nearest rival.

Most of the lads in the field of 134 had trouble Tuesday as rain swept over the Lost Creek Country Club's 6,250-yard layout.

Tom Cassady of Marietta soared to a 77 after a first round 68 for a 145 total to cop runner-up honors. Weiskopf and Cassady join Pete Tague of New Lexington and Bob Petrou of Akron as Ohio's qualifiers for the national Jaycee championship at Waterloo, Iowa, Aug. 13-20.

Tague sank a 40-foot putt on the final hole for a 72 and a 146 total to edge out Petrou for third place. The latter shot a 73 to finish with 147.

Alternates for the Iowa journey are Jerry McGee of New Lexington and Doug Cooper of Akron, who came in with 149s for a fifth place deadlock.

Bill Ritter of Middletown skied to an 81 after an impressive 69 in opening-round action.

Rocky Marciano Hits Golf Tournament Trail

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Marciano, the retired heavyweight boxing champion, makes his debut in tournament golf today in the pro-am division of the Eastern Open.

"When I step out on the course, it'll be like fighting a four-rounder in a small town," Rocky said. "I want to get used to playing before crowds."

Rocky said he took to the links about 16 months ago, mainly because of the good golfing weather in Florida. He confesses he didn't think he'd like the game.

"But after playing about two months," he said, "I broke 90 and the golfing bug got me."

Rookie outfielder Joe Christopher of the Pirates went to bat 23 times this season before he made his first big league hit.

East Liverpool collected six hits off two Salem hurlers. Barnett was charged with the defeat.

After Salem scored its one run in the first inning, Cox-Merchants came back in the bottom of the first with four runs to clinch the decision. The winners added two more in the last of the fifth.

Diving Victim Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Thomas J. Bernhardy, 28, who had been confined to a wheelchair for eight years as a result of a swimming accident, died Tuesday. He suffered a broken neck in July, 1952, when his head struck an inflated automobile tire in a 10-foot dive in the swimming pool of the Pine Ridge Country Club. He was assistant life guard at the pool.

Stymie was claimed for $2,500 as a 2-year-old but didn't win a stakes race until he was a 4-year-old. He eventually earned $918,485.

Giles Slaps Suspension Of 5 Days On Nuxhall

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League Chief Warren Giles has suspended pitcher Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Reds for five days—starting today—and fined him $250 for an altercation with umpire Ed Vargo at Chicago.

The Reds announced the penalty today.

Nuxhall, veteran southpaw from Hamilton, Ohio, was to accompany the team on its current West Coast tour, but won't be eligible to pitch until Sunday.

Nuxhall, had to be wrestled to the ground Monday in a game with Chicago's Cubs, to prevent him from getting at umpire Vargo.

Nuxhall had charged the umpire and nearly knocked him to the ground.

The incident came in the eighth inning when Chicago's George Altman beat out an infield hit. Nuxhall covered first, taking the throw from first sacker Gordon Coleman.

When Vargo ruled Altman safe, Nuxhall charged, knocking the umpire reeling. Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson ran out to restrain his pitcher, and Coleman teamed with Bill Martin to wrestle Nuxhall to the ground.

He was replaced by Jim Brosnan and Cincinnati won, 6-5, with two runs in the ninth.

These same two teams will begin a best two out of three game playoff for the National League title next week.

Dick Patterson scattered five hits to pick up the victory for Knowles. Bill Smith's double that advanced Mike McKenzie to third base and Dick Patterson's squeeze bunt resulted in the winning run for Knowles in the last of the sixth inning.

Cleveland Youth Wins Ohio Jaycee Golf Title

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old Cleveland Benedictine High School graduate wears the Ohio Jaycee golf crown today.

Tom Weiskopf, who enters Ohio State this fall, fired a 74 Tuesday to go with his opening round 65 for a 36-hole total of 139—a six-stroke margin over his nearest rival.

Most of the lads in the field of 134 had trouble Tuesday as rain swept over the Lost Creek Country Club's 6,250-yard layout.

Tom Cassady of Marietta soared to a 77 after a first round 68 for a 145 total to cop runner-up honors. Weiskopf and Cassady join Pete Tague of New Lexington and Bob Petrou of Akron as Ohio's qualifiers for the national Jaycee championship at Waterloo, Iowa, Aug. 13-20.

Tague sank a 40-foot putt on the final hole for a 72 and a 146 total to edge out Petrou for third place. The latter shot a 73 to finish with 147.

Alternates for the Iowa journey are Jerry McGee of New Lexington and Doug Cooper of Akron, who came in with 149s for a fifth place deadlock.

Bill Ritter of Middletown skied to an 81 after an impressive 69 in opening-round action.

Tom Weiskopf, Cleveland, 65-74—139

Tom Cassady, Marietta, 68-77—145

Pete Tague, New Lexington, 74-72—146

Bob Petrou, Akron, 74-73—147

Jerry McGee, New Lexington, 76-73—149

Doug Cooper, Akron, 74-75—149

Gary Goecke, Dayton, 72-78—150

Rocky Marciano Hits Golf Tournament Trail

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Marciano, the retired heavyweight boxing champion, makes his debut in tournament golf today in the pro-am division of the Eastern Open.

"When I step out on the course, it'll be like fighting a four-rounder in a small town," Rocky said. "I want to get used to playing before crowds."

Rocky said he took to the links about 16 months ago, mainly because of the good golfing weather in Florida. He confesses he didn't think he'd like the game.

"But after playing about two months," he said, "I broke 90 and the golfing bug got me."

Rookie outfielder Joe Christopher of the Pirates went to bat 23 times this season before he made his first big league hit.

Borer Larvae Control Cited

LISBON — There has been profitable spraying against corn borer larvae in a few cases in field corn in Columbiana County, an insect alert from Ohio State University points out.

The alert was received by Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent.

The larvae are present in most counties in Ohio but chemical control in field corn is not usually recommended in the state, according to R. P. Holdsworth and Billie Blair, extension entomologists at OSU.

It is essential, however, that the spraying be done early and in accordance with general recommendations, they said.

Corn leaf aphids have been found in Southern, Central and Western Ohio.

Holdsworth and Blair said that last year the insects caused much damage in some local corn fields. Control consisted of spraying when 25 or 50 per cent of the tassels have emerged with parthion or malathion. Results will not be obtained if spraying is done prior to or after 25 to 30 per cent emergence of tassel, Holdsworth added.

The entomologists advised that spraying should be done only if 25 per cent of the plants are heavily infested and if soil moisture is low. Spraying for light infestation will not pay.

Southern and Central Ohio have infestation of alfalfa leaf hoppers, Lower said. If dry weather follows the second cutting of alfalfa, leaf hopper damage is likely to occur after infestation spreads. Malathion and methoxychlor are recommended chemicals for alfalfa leaf hopper.

Crucible Chorus Sets Rehearsal For Tuesday

The Crucible Steel Male Chorus, under the direction of Fred Martell, will rehearse Tuesday at Midland High School in preparation for its last summer concert at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, on Aug. 7.

The concert will mark the 12th appearance of the chorus at the park and the first for the new director.

The chorus will take the balance of the month as a vacation from rehearsals. The fall sessions will be held sometime in September.

The schedule for the balance of the year is well filled and no engagements can be added, according to Harry W. Thomas, manager.

Man Dies In Collision

CLEVELAND (AP) — A truck-auto collision in suburban Middleburg Heights Tuesday killed Robert D. Portz, 53, of Pierpont, Ashtabula County. Police said Portz drove through a stop sign or failed to yield the right-of-way, and a tractor-trailer loaded with sand struck his car broadside.

District Picnic Set For 34 VFW Posts

A family picnic for 34 Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts in the Ohio 6th District is scheduled Sunday, Aug. 7, at 1 p. m. at the camp of Post 66 on Beaver Creek in Madison Township.

Barbecued chicken will be the main course. The outing is being arranged by Nick Turkaly, with Jim Rose and Bill Grier as co-chairmen. Others on the committee are Harry Simpson, Sherwood Robinson and Lawrence Blakeley.

The same committee will be in charge of a picnic for members of Post 66 and their families Sunday, Aug. 14, also at the post's camp on Beaver Creek. Turkaly said tickets now are on sale at the post home. Games are being arranged for adults and children.

At its meeting last night, the post voted a $20 contribution to the "Dollars for Debbie" drive to aid 9-year-old Debbie McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElroy of College St., in her 2-year battle to save her eyesight after she was stricken with a disease of the central nervous system.

Boy, 18, Indicted In Arson Murder

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth accused of starting a fire in which his blind grandmother died was indicted on three counts of first-degree murder and an arson charge Tuesday by the Stark County grand jury.

Daniel Manweiler, of East Greenville, west of here, is accused of setting the fire July 14 at the home of his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Callis, here in an effort to prevent a divorce between them.

Mrs. Mary Koblentz, 86, mother of Mrs. Callis, died in the flames.

Authorities said the youth admitted starting the fire by placing a lighted cigarette in a box of papers but he explained that he did not know the blaze would get out of control.

The three counts of murder accuse manweiler of deliberate premeditated malice in killing Mrs. Koblentz, and of killing her in perpetrating arson and in perpetrating robbery.

Minister Discusses Church's Beliefs For Chester Kiwanis

"The church believes in local autonomy and members vote for what they want," the pastor of the First Christian Church emphasized in a talk to the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night in the City Hall auditorium.

The Rev. E. D. Gleaton, speaking on "The Beliefs and Doctrines of the Christian Church," added that there is no "clique" and all in the congregation are treated alike whether they give $1,000 or a penny.

He said the church board is made up of elders and deacons depending on the size of the congregation. The Chester church has 8 elders and 30 deacons on the board.

"Very few things come before the congregation, such as paying bills," he said." Our ministers of the Christian Church have indefinite calls and may be called for life although they may not stay that long."

There is one chairman each for the elders and deacons and if the congregation does not grow it is because of the church board, he said. He added that he had never heard of a congregation "going against the board."

"We believe the Christian Church is not a denomination, we believe the Church is the body of Christ and every one must be a member of the church," he added.

"We have no one to come in and tell us not to do this or not to do that; the property belongs to the congregation and a man who has been a member only one month has as much to say as an older member but may not be heard as well."

In conclusion, Rev. Gleaton said "we do not require a letter from anyone to join our church. We take a person's word that he has been immersed."

A question-and-answer period was held. Albert Kell, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

3 Drivers Await Mishap Hearings

Three motorists are awaiting hearings in various district courts after being cited Monday by the State Highway Patrol following accidents.

Jean Johnson, 41, of Summitville was charged with reckless operation when she lost control of her car late Monday night on the Y. & O. Rd., a mile north of Route 30, and slid into a southbound car driven by Ralph Hanes, 31, of Pittsburgh, the patrol said.

Charles Boyd, 45, of Leetonia R. D. 2 was charged with passing at an intersection after a collision with a car operated by Mary Phillis, 22, of Leetonia R. D. 1, who was making a left turn on Route 45, four and a half miles north of Lisbon Monday afternoon.

Dexter Weaver, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited for reckless driving after a collision with a car operated by Charles Morris Jr., 37, also of R. D. 1, Monday afternoon on Route 45, half a mile north of Wellsville.

Weaver was passing other cars and hit Morris in the rear when he had to swing back into line because of approaching traffic, the patrol said.

Home Funds Cleared

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners received court authorization Tuesday to transfer $1,198.24 from the children's home fund to the general fund to provide for improvements at the Kyes Memorial Home at East Palestine. Judge Joel H. Sharp made the ruling. The money will be used to erect a fence, purchase a lawn mower and other miscellaneous items.

Castro Sees Cuba As 'Example' For Other Latin Areas

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—An ailing Fidel Castro offered his revolution as an example to other Latin American countries Tuesday and repeated charges of U.S. aggression against his government.

Obviously not fully recovered from his bout with pneumonia, the Prime Minister looked drawn and haggard as he hoarsely harangued the crowd. He spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and in the end practically stumbled into the arms of his followers behind him.

Instead of a predicted half million, about 200,000 Cubans struggled through rain, heat and muddy roads to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Castro's revolutionary movement in its birthplace, the Sierra Maestra mountains of eastern Cuba.

Accusing the United States once again of aggression against his regime, Castro said "the principal reason for aggression against our country is to prevent our being an example" to the rest of Latin America.

"We will continue making our fatherland an example that will convert the Andes range into the Sierra Maestra of the continent," he declared.

The Cuban leader also repeated his charge that the proposed new U.S. aid program for Latin America is a bribe to whip up opposition to him.

A family picnic for 34 Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts in the Ohio 6th District is scheduled Sunday, Aug. 7, at 1 p. m. at the camp of Post 66 on Beaver Creek in Madison Township.

Barbecued chicken will be the main course. The outing is being arranged by Nick Turkaly, with Jim Rose and Bill Grier as co-chairmen. Others on the committee are Harry Simpson, Sherwood Robinson and Lawrence Blakeley.

The same committee will be in charge of a picnic for members of Post 66 and their families Sunday, Aug. 14, also at the post's camp on Beaver Creek. Turkaly said tickets now are on sale at the post home. Games are being arranged for adults and children.

At its meeting last night, the post voted a $20 contribution to the "Dollars for Debbie" drive to aid 9-year-old Debbie McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElroy of College St., in her 2-year battle to save her eyesight after she was stricken with a disease of the central nervous system.

Boy, 18, Indicted In Arson Murder

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth accused of starting a fire in which his blind grandmother died was indicted on three counts of first-degree murder and an arson charge Tuesday by the Stark County grand jury.

Daniel Manweiler, of East Greenville, west of here, is accused of setting the fire July 14 at the home of his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Callis, here in an effort to prevent a divorce between them.

Mrs. Mary Koblentz, 86, mother of Mrs. Callis, died in the flames.

Authorities said the youth admitted starting the fire by placing a lighted cigarette in a box of papers but he explained that he did not know the blaze would get out of control.

The three counts of murder accuse manweiler of deliberate premeditated malice in killing Mrs. Koblentz, and of killing her in perpetrating arson and in perpetrating robbery.

Minister Discusses Church's Beliefs For Chester Kiwanis

"The church believes in local autonomy and members vote for what they want," the pastor of the First Christian Church emphasized in a talk to the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night in the City Hall auditorium.

The Rev. E. D. Gleaton, speaking on "The Beliefs and Doctrines of the Christian Church," added that there is no "clique" and all in the congregation are treated alike whether they give $1,000 or a penny.

He said the church board is made up of elders and deacons depending on the size of the congregation. The Chester church has 8 elders and 30 deacons on the board.

"Very few things come before the congregation, such as paying bills," he said." Our ministers of the Christian Church have indefinite calls and may be called for life although they may not stay that long."

There is one chairman each for the elders and deacons and if the congregation does not grow it is because of the church board, he said. He added that he had never heard of a congregation "going against the board."

"We believe the Christian Church is not a denomination, we believe the Church is the body of Christ and every one must be a member of the church," he added.

"We have no one to come in and tell us not to do this or not to do that; the property belongs to the congregation and a man who has been a member only one month has as much to say as an older member but may not be heard as well."

In conclusion, Rev. Gleaton said "we do not require a letter from anyone to join our church. We take a person's word that he has been immersed."

A question-and-answer period was held. Albert Kell, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

3 Drivers Await Mishap Hearings

Three motorists are awaiting hearings in various district courts after being cited Monday by the State Highway Patrol following accidents.

Jean Johnson, 41, of Summitville was charged with reckless operation when she lost control of her car late Monday night on the Y. & O. Rd., a mile north of Route 30, and slid into a southbound car driven by Ralph Hanes, 31, of Pittsburgh, the patrol said.

Charles Boyd, 45, of Leetonia R. D. 2 was charged with passing at an intersection after a collision with a car operated by Mary Phillis, 22, of Leetonia R. D. 1, who was making a left turn on Route 45, four and a half miles north of Lisbon Monday afternoon.

Dexter Weaver, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited for reckless driving after a collision with a car operated by Charles Morris Jr., 37, also of R. D. 1, Monday afternoon on Route 45, half a mile north of Wellsville.

Weaver was passing other cars and hit Morris in the rear when he had to swing back into line because of approaching traffic, the patrol said.

Judge Joel H. Sharp made the ruling. The money will be used to erect a fence, purchase a lawn mower and other miscellaneous items.

Castro Sees Cuba As 'Example' For Other Latin Areas

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

LAS MERCEDES, Cuba (AP)—An ailing Fidel Castro offered his revolution as an example to other Latin American countries Tuesday and repeated charges of U.S. aggression against his government.

Obviously not fully recovered from his bout with pneumonia, the Prime Minister looked drawn and haggard as he hoarsely harangued the crowd. He spoke for two hours and 15 minutes and in the end practically stumbled into the arms of his followers behind him.

Instead of a predicted half million, about 200,000 Cubans struggled through rain, heat and muddy roads to celebrate the seventh anniversary of Castro's revolutionary movement in its birthplace, the Sierra Maestra mountains of eastern Cuba.

Accusing the United States once again of aggression against his regime, Castro said "the principal reason for aggression against our country is to prevent our being an example" to the rest of Latin America.

"We will continue making our fatherland an example that will convert the Andes range into the Sierra Maestra of the continent," he declared.

The Cuban leader also repeated his charge that the proposed new U.S. aid program for Latin America is a bribe to whip up opposition to him.

Motorcyclist Killed

NILES, Ohio (AP) — Dennis Luzar, 19, of Girard, was injured fatally Tuesday when his motorcycle crashed into a utility pole here.

Borer Larvae Control Cited

LISBON — There has been profitable spraying against corn borer larvae in a few cases in field corn in Columbiana County, an insect alert from Ohio State University points out.

The alert was received by Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent.

The larvae are present in most counties in Ohio but chemical control in field corn is not usually recommended in the state, according to R. P. Holdsworth and Billie Blair, extension entomologists at OSU.

It is essential, however, that the spraying be done early and in accordance with general recommendations, they said.

Corn leaf aphids have been found in Southern, Central and Western Ohio.

Holdsworth and Blair said that last year the insects caused much damage in some local corn fields. Control consisted of spraying when 25 or 50 per cent of the tassels have emerged with parthion or malathion. Results will not be obtained if spraying is done prior to or after 25 to 30 per cent emergence of tassel, Holdsworth added.

The entomologists advised that spraying should be done only if 25 per cent of the plants are heavily infested and if soil moisture is low. Spraying for light infestation will not pay.

Southern and Central Ohio have infestation of alfalfa leaf hoppers, Lower said. If dry weather follows the second cutting of alfalfa, leaf hopper damage is likely to occur after infestation spreads. Malathion and methoxychlor are recommended chemicals for alfalfa leaf hopper.

Crucible Chorus Sets Rehearsal For Tuesday

The Crucible Steel Male Chorus, under the direction of Fred Martell, will rehearse Tuesday at Midland High School in preparation for its last summer concert at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, on Aug. 7.

The concert will mark the 12th appearance of the chorus at the park and the first for the new director.

The chorus will take the balance of the month as a vacation from rehearsals. The fall sessions will be held sometime in September.

The schedule for the balance of the year is well filled and no engagements can be added, according to Harry W. Thomas, manager.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A truck-auto collision in suburban Middleburg Heights Tuesday killed Robert D. Portz, 53, of Pierpont, Ashtabula County. Police said Portz drove through a stop sign or failed to yield the right-of-way, and a tractor-trailer loaded with sand struck his car broadside.

A Waterford Park Race Track employe was cited on two charges after his auto went out of control and struck a utility pole early today on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and another motorist faces charges as the aftermath of a collision Tuesday afternoon on Dresden Ave.

George Cooper of Waterford Park was charged with reckless operation and driving a car without a license after the mishap at 2:43 this morning on the "Hill Rd." near Ravine St. Patrolmen Paul Carter and Kent Garvey, who filed the charges, said Cooper was traveling west, failed to make the turn and struck the pole, causing heavy damage to the right side of his auto.

In Municipal Court this morning, Cooper was sentenced to 10 days in the County Jail for lack of a driver's license and fined $25 and costs on the reckless operation charge.

Thomas H. Moore, 63, of 1106 Dresden Ave. was cited after a mishap at 3:11 p. m. yesterday on Dresden Ave. that damaged his 1953 two-door sedan and a 1960 two-door operated by Robert Ferguson of Weirton.

The charge against Moore was brought under a city ordinance that prohibits driving an auto to the left of the center line on a grade or the approach to a curve. He is due for a hearing at 3:30 this afternoon before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Moore told police he was inbound and was attempting a left turn into a parking lot at the time of the crash. Ferguson, who was outbound, said Moore cut in front of him and he could not stop in time to avoid a collision. The crash damaged the right front fender and door of Moore's car and the right front fender, grill, hood and bumper of Ferguson's car, police said.

A mishap at W. 6th and Market Sts. Tuesday at 9:45 a. m. damaged a 1947 four-door sedan driven by W. Blair Steele, 400 10th St., Wellsville, and a 1959 two-door sedan operated by Harold L. Nicholson, 54, of 707 Avondale St., officers said.

Nicholson told police he was halted to wait for a traffic light to change when Steele pulled from a parking place and struck his auto. There was damage to the left front fender of Steele's auto and the right side of Nicholson's, officers said.

'I'll Work Hard,' Nixon Says If He Wins GOP Nomination

By JOE HALL

CHICAGO, (AP)—Richard M. Nixon today reaches the next to last major milestone in his long campaign to become President of the United States.

By the time he goes to bed tonight, the vice president should be the Republican nominee for this office, quite probably by acclamation and certainly with no serious opposition.

Ahead of him will lie three months of arduous work and campaigning leading up to the day of decision, Nov. 8. He has repeatedly pledged to the national convention delegates this week his fight will be as unremitting as any in the nation's political history.

Nixon told one delegation "I may have some inadequacies, but I can promise you this—I will work as no one has ever worked before to try to lead you to victory."

Nixon yielded the convention spotlight Tuesday to his chief, President Eisenhower who tapped the youthful Californian as his running mate eight years ago this month in Chicago.

But Eisenhower flies on to Denver today, leaving the star role entirely to Nixon.

The vice president appeared to have a firm grasp on all levers of power in the convention.

He settled one of his two key problems Tuesday, the writing of an acceptable platform, and laid his plans for the solution of the other, selection of a running mate who would add maximum strength to the ticket.

It was evident in the Nixon camp that the civil rights plank finally worked out for the platform did not meet all the specifications the vice president would have considered ideal.

But he sent word he felt the platform committee had done an "outstanding job" on civil rights and all other planks.

On the No. 2 ticket spot, Nixon was keeping mum.

However, he told reporters that his procedure for selecting a running mate would be to convene a meeting of party leaders in his suite after tonight's convention session.

Nixon said this plan made it obvious the vice presidential nomination could not come tonight as listed in the convention program but would have to be Thursday.

Jetliner Lands Safely On Short Canada Field

MONTREAL (AP) — A Chicago-bound Pan American World Airways jetliner with 93 passengers aboard landed safely Tuesday night on a runway 3,000 feet shorter than the airstrip usually used by big jets. Local fliers said they were amazed the Boeing 707 made it in safely.

Piloted by Capt. Fred Ralph, the plane from London was scheduled to land at Montreal's Dorval Airport. Instead Ralph brought it down at an airstrip owned by Canadair Ltd. in the Cartierville district of northern Montreal.

Pan American officials could not be reached for an explanation, but it appeared that Ralph came down at Cartierville by mistake while making an instrument approach to Dorval. Fliers at Cartierville explained that the strip there is on the same compass heading as the Dorval runway.

Voters Reverse 'Dry' Spell After Six Weeks

LAKE BUTLER, Fla. (AP)—Union County's dry spell lasted just six weeks.

Voters in the county approved legal liquor sales in 1933, right after repeal of the 18th Amendment. Two years ago drys won a referendum under the state's local option law by a margin of six votes on a recount.

A court battle ensued. The referendum results became final and effective six weeks ago. Tuesday in a new referendum, voters reversed the ban. They approved liquor sales 645 to 507.

SHERWOOD, Tenn. (AP) — Federal tax agents investigated when residents of this small mountain community complained their sweet spring water had suddenly turned sour with the taste of "weak rye whisky." The agents found a moonshiner had been dumping his waste into the spring.

10 At Sheep Meeting

LISBON — Ten Columbiana County men attended a twilight meeting of the Tri-County Sheep Producers Association Tuesday night at the Shane George farm near Scroggsfield in Carroll County. Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Encourage Child To Read On Vacation

When school closes, books close for the summer for most children. A few, however, are tutored or attend summer classes to make up their arrears.

By Garry Meyers

A smaller number go to school to develop their special talents and interests. With so much time on hand, the average child of school age reads fewer books for pleasure than he read during the school year. We little realize how much the school, especially at the elementary level, stimulates children while in school to read for fun at home. Fortunately some teachers have a way of causing children to keep on reading during the summer. So have some local librarians.

BUT IF YOU visit the average library in summer, you won't see as many children six to 12 there as you might have seen on any day during the school year. Nor do you see as many of these children buying books with their parents at a bookstore in summer.

For parents who care about the best education of their children, here are a few suggestions:

1. Sit down together, Dad and Mother, and consider a program for encouraging the reading of books by your children this summer. When you go on vacation with them, see that they take along some good books or get some good books wherever they may be. For the long weeks and months they will be home, consider ways of cultivating daily reading habits in them.

2. It will be of great importance for your children to see you and Dad reading during the summer.

3. PLAN THAT one or both of you parents will go, at least once a week, to the public library with your children who don't care to go alone, in order to borrow some books each of them might enjoy.

Although you may live far away from a public library, you can find one within a reasonable driving distance. Some bookmobiles operate in summer.

Wonderful also to go often with your children to bookstores to buy good books.

4. For children of elementary school age, consider requiring a quiet period each afternoon when all are expected to read silently or to younger children.

5. If your child is a poor reader, try hard to help him find interesting books easy enough for him to read with satisfaction.

My bulletins "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore an aluminum skillet or pot which has become warped on the bottom and does not rest level on the stove?

A. Heat the pan until a drop of cold water dances on it. Then take it to the workshop and turn it upside down. Place a board on it and hit the board quite hard three or four times. The pan should then be as flat as when new.

Q. How can I remove airplane cement from fabrics?

A. On all fabrics, except acetate rayon or vinyon, airplane cement can be removed with acetone (fingernail polish remover). Amyl acetate (banana oil) can be used on rayon.

Q. What can I do for shoes and work boots that have been hardened by water?

A. Kerosene will soften these shoes and make them pliable again.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Encourage Child To Read On Vacation

When school closes, books close for the summer for most children. A few, however, are tutored or attend summer classes to make up their arrears.

By Garry Meyers

A smaller number go to school to develop their special talents and interests. With so much time on hand, the average child of school age reads fewer books for pleasure than he read during the school year. We little realize how much the school, especially at the elementary level, stimulates children while in school to read for fun at home. Fortunately some teachers have a way of causing children to keep on reading during the summer. So have some local librarians.

BUT IF YOU visit the average library in summer, you won't see as many children six to 12 there as you might have seen on any day during the school year. Nor do you see as many of these children buying books with their parents at a bookstore in summer.

For parents who care about the best education of their children, here are a few suggestions:

1. Sit down together, Dad and Mother, and consider a program for encouraging the reading of books by your children this summer. When you go on vacation with them, see that they take along some good books or get some good books wherever they may be. For the long weeks and months they will be home, consider ways of cultivating daily reading habits in them.

2. It will be of great importance for your children to see you and Dad reading during the summer.

3. PLAN THAT one or both of you parents will go, at least once a week, to the public library with your children who don't care to go alone, in order to borrow some books each of them might enjoy.

Although you may live far away from a public library, you can find one within a reasonable driving distance. Some bookmobiles operate in summer.

Wonderful also to go often with your children to bookstores to buy good books.

4. For children of elementary school age, consider requiring a quiet period each afternoon when all are expected to read silently or to younger children.

5. If your child is a poor reader, try hard to help him find interesting books easy enough for him to read with satisfaction.

My bulletins "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore an aluminum skillet or pot which has become warped on the bottom and does not rest level on the stove?

A. Heat the pan until a drop of cold water dances on it. Then take it to the workshop and turn it upside down. Place a board on it and hit the board quite hard three or four times. The pan should then be as flat as when new.

Q. How can I remove airplane cement from fabrics?

A. On all fabrics, except acetate rayon or vinyon, airplane cement can be removed with acetone (fingernail polish remover). Amyl acetate (banana oil) can be used on rayon.

Q. What can I do for shoes and work boots that have been hardened by water?

A. Kerosene will soften these shoes and make them pliable again.

THIS PAGE IS DEDICATED to MAYOR COLLINS

For His Courageous Action In Bringing Honest Government to Chester, West Virginia

The action taken by Mayor Collins to enforce the ordinances of the city of Chester and to respect the laws of our great state of West Virginia must be publicly applauded.

We wish to thank the newly formed West Virginia Crime Commission for their recent visit to our county and sincerely hope the Commission will acknowledge the recent action taken by Mayor Collins by some manner of endorsement or commendation. (Any endorsement or commendation received by Mayor Collins from the West Virginia Crime Commission will be published by the Citizens' Committee.) Gov. Underwood will be made aware of the recent developments in Chester, W. Va. and any comment by our Governor will be published. Please watch for these comments or endorsements.

Copies of the East Liverpool Review will be mailed by Registered Mail to the Governor and to the Crime Commission.

We earnestly hope this upsurge in civic pride will bring to the city of Chester the stature it deserves. Our city has recently undertaken the development of a city park and swimming pool, signs of progress. We have now, and have had in the past, a fire department, second to none for a community of our size. These projects and our fire department must receive your support.

We wish to thank those members of the Chester Ministerial Association for their recent endorsement at the last Council meeting. We earnestly urge all religious leaders and the citizens of Chester to attend Council meetings in the future. Your attendance will insure a better community and a better state of West Virginia. We urge the local and state news media to make some acknowledgment of this fight for democratic existence, human dignity and a better community for our young people.

In every respect the above movement in a very small town in a small corner of the state of West Virginia is as important to all Americans as the United Nations, the Belgian Congo, Berlin, Cuba and Moscow.

Citizens For Better Government In Chester, W. Va.—Non-Partisan

Co-Chairmen: Clyde Chaney, Sr., David Pugh, Carl Graham
